Six Nebraskans Died in Crash

Sgt. Pool of Lincoln One of Globemaster Air Victims in Japan

One Lincolnite and at least six other Nebraskans were among the 129 servicemen killed in the crash of an Air Force C-124 Globemaster near Tokyo Thursday, according to a casualty list released Friday by the Defense Department in Washington.

Sgt. Pool

The Lincoln soldier was identified as Sgt. 1/c Warren R. Pool, son of Mrs. Lydia Pool of 1501 So. 11th.

Mrs. Pool said she had not received an official telegram from the military notifying her of the death of her son, Sgt. Warren R. Pool, on the C-124 Globemaster when it crashed near Tokyo.

Mrs. Pool, in a state of collapse, cried: "I haven't received anything. Oh, no, no, no!"

Warren, reportedly killed in the air crash, was wounded in Korean fighting early in 1951. At that time he had been in the Far East for over a year and prior to that time had spent three years with a transport line between Iran and Russia.

(The standard armed forces policy in case of casualties is not to release names until the nearest of kin has been informed. It was the Journal's assumption that Mrs. Pool had been notified before the name of her son was released to the wire services.)

Then she requested that the Journal communicate immediately with another son, Don, who was on duty at Elgin Watch.

The Journal immediately contacted the management of Elgin Watch, who gave assurances that Don would call his home immediately.

Don later phoned The Journal, and was advised to phone his mother at her home immediately.

"I was afraid something like this would happen," said Don. "Warren was in that area . . ."

Don himself returned to Lincoln in May, 1952, after 11 months of service with the infantry in Korea.

His brother, Warren, at 31, had served the military continuously since World War II. Warren was born in Lincoln and was educated in Lincoln schools.

A sister, Mrs. Dorothy L. Culver, lives in Portland, Ore.

Other Nebraskans killed in history's worst air disaster were:

AIR FORCE

Major Verl C. Athey, husband of Mrs. Alice M. Athey of Denver, and son of Harvey E. Athey, Wauneta, Neb.

S-Sgt. Robert E. Groff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clay N. Groff, 4704 Franklin, Omaha.

Airman 2-C John M. Harrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Harrington, Rt. 1, Bradshaw, Neb.

Airman 2-C Francis E. Moran, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Moran, York, Neb.

Airman 2-C Richard D. Arnold husband of Mrs. Geraldine Arnold and son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Arnold, 1556 N. 18th St., Omaha.

Also reported as dead was:

Lt. Kenneth Mayo, husband of Mrs. Carolyn A. Mayo, of Burlington, Ia., son of Mrs. Edna C. Mayo of Ames, Ia., and son of Ralph Mayo of Omaha.

The Air Force's telegram notifying Mr. and Mrs. William J. Moran of York of the death of their son, Francis E. Moran, reached them on the very day another son, John, returned to York from completion of service as a Marine in Korea.

Francis, who was killed in the C-124 Globemaster crash, would have been 22 this coming August 24. He entered the medical detachment of the Air Corps in 1950 and had spent 12 months in Korea. Born at York, he was a graduate of St. Joseph's School at York and was a student at York College when he entered the service.

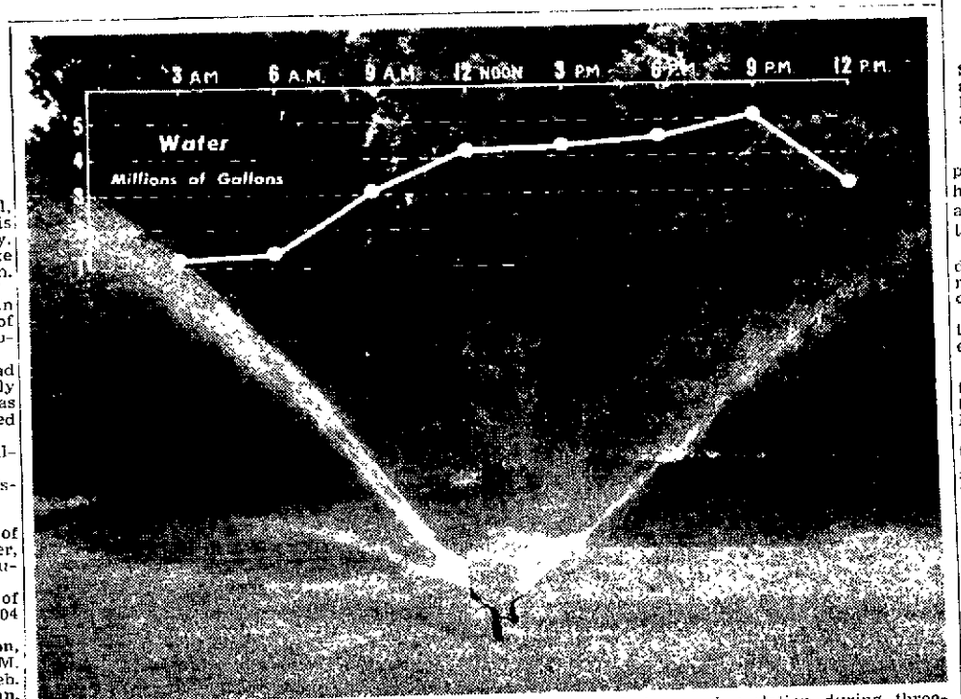
Survivors besides the parents and the brother John, is a sister, Patricia, as tudent at University of Nebraska now vacationing in Arizona.

Young Moran was a nephew of Dr. E. C. Zimmerer, a former Lincolnite, who now serves Iowa as state public health commissioner. Edmund Zimmerer of Lincoln is a cousin.

Major Athey, former University of Nebraska track man, was graduated in electrical engineering from N.U. in 1938.

Marvin Athey, ex-Husker footballer, is a brother.

Major Athey's wife, the former Alice Akerson of Aurora, is a 1940 Nebraska graduate. She now lives in Denver.



PRECIOUS WATER—Lincolnites making use of huge amounts of water in such ways as lawn sprinkling, boosted the city water consumption to an all-time record of 35,148,000 gallons. The graph shows the average amount of water pumped from the 29th and A pumping station during three-hour periods for the entire day. The A Street station reported that 27,500,000 gallons of water was pumped in the 24-hour period. All other pumping stations in the city reported a combined total of 7,398,000 gallons used. Water Supply Short So Lincolnites Must Sprinkle According to House Numbers

By PHIL WADHAMS
Journal City Hall Reporter

Curtailed use of water by all patrons three days a week was ordered at an emergency City Council meeting called by Mayor Clark Jeary.

The plan is effective immediately and remains in effect as long as needed. An unprecedented Thursday demand of 35,148,000 gallons forced immediate action.

The adopted plan is on a vnluntary basis but Jeary has asked for an ordinance with teeth on Monday to be used only if some consumers become unreasonable in their water usage.

* * *

THE PLAN FOLLOWS that of Omaha except that it is less stringent. Reasonable use of water for all purposes will be permitted on Sundays. Otherwise customers with even numbered houses will use water on lawns and gardens only on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Those with odd numbers will have free rein on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

The decrease may be lifted at any time. A few drops of rain would be a major incentive. Other items in which the public is asked to concur:

Only necessary use of water for household purposes, with exception as to sprinkling above noted.

Air conditioning units, when possible, to be adjusted to reduce normal requirement.

Enough water for newly laid sod to keep it alive.

* * *

PUBLIC institutions have been urged to co-operate. The Lincoln Country Club has its own water supply. The Park Department will use only enough water, during the emergency, to keep flowers alive.

The ban is conditioned entirely on weather conditions and peak demand. City officials co-operated by shutting off water use in air conditioning units in the mayor's office and three units in the water and light offices. Air fans alone are being used. These are the only City Hall cooled spots.

* * *

IT WAS REPORTED:

1. Reservoirs down to six-foot depth Thursday night. Gained back to 11½ foot depth (capacity 15 feet) by 9 a.m. Friday as against 14 feet Thursday morning, loss of 2½ feet.
2. Pumping rate at A street station at 8 a.m. Friday 28.5 million gallons as against 30-million rate Thursday morning. Bit of encouragement here.
3. From overall picture, condition not as good early Friday as same time Thursday.
4. Effect of public co-operation not to be fully known until end of day.

* * *

TWO NEW WELLS on City ground near 31st and South, region of a five-million gallon reservoir, and other wells may be constructed. The Council approved tests. Erickson said wells would cost from $10,000 to $12,000 each and would supply about 1½ million additional gallons daily. He will contact well drillers. The wells could be used as a standby in connection with the $8.5 Ashland project which will not be appreciated to the fullest until 1955.

Water Regulations

1. Necessary use of water for household purposes is permitted.

2. Air conditioning units which can be so controlled as to reduce the mount of water required be adjusted so that a reduction in their normal requirements will be made.

3. Residents whose house numbers are even numbers (1602, 408, etc.) will use water for lawns and gardens on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Those whose house numbers are odd will use water for said purposes on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Necessary use of water will be permitted for all purposes on Sundays.

4. Persons who have laid new sod in the year 1953 will not be restricted as to days of the week when they may use water —but they will be restricted to such an amount as will keep their grass alive.

Every citizen is respectively requested to comply with the above request until further order of the mayor or the City Council.

Petition Seeks Auditorium Start at 15th and N Site

Atty. George Healey has filed in District Court a petition asking for an order, directed at the Mayor and Council, requiring them to proceed with construction of an Auditorium within such reasonable time as the court may direct.

Relief is thus sought in the case of Myron D. Noble and others against the City administration in accord with a decision by the State Supreme Court of Aug. 17, 1950, declaring it the duty and obligation of the Council to proceed with construction on the 15th Street site procured for that purpose.

Petitioner shows that almost three years have elapsed since the decision with no auditorium built, no plan approved and no contracts let.

* * *

THE CURRENT MOVE apparently is a counter to the expected petition movement giving the voters opportunity to wipe the Auditorium slate clean and to start over again.

Since the suit was started under the old city administration, request is made to substitute the names, as parties defendant, of Mayor Clark Jeary, Pat Ash, Hugh Thorne, Joseph E. Fenton and C. W. D. Kinsey for Clarence G. Miles, Thomas Pansing, Roy A. Sheaff, John Comstock and Arthur J. Weaver.

Of the amount of money collected under the original bond issue of $1,100,000, it is shown that $358,936.09 has been spent, including 15th Street improvements, and that there are now outstanding general obligation bonds in the amount of $550,000.

PROPONENTS OF the petition plan state that an attorney is preparing the petitions and that it was the intent to put them in circulation soon.

Mayor Clark Jeary offered this comment:

"We will do whatever the court tells us to do. But we already are doing what apparently is desired in that we have been working on plans through our Advisory committee and architects. We have been moving as rapidly as possible."

City Starts Anti-Polio Alley Spraying

Spraying operations as a polio safeguard were to start Friday evening with a city park tractor and trailer crew spraying Benzene Hexachloride through 37 miles of alleys.

Health Director Dr. James T. Gonge explains that flies are suspected of spreading polio by coming in contact with human excreta. Areas to be sprayed.

Health officials say they may cover other areas not on the present schedule as they go along. The spraying is expected to take a week.

Poor Clinics Ending Might Bring Rift

A rift between Lancaster County and the City-County Health Department, long brewing, may soon break through the surface calm.

County health board representative Chauncey Barney said he is "disturbed about the board's abrupt action ending clinics for the poor" at special meeting this week.

* * *

BARNEY WAS NOT present at the meeting called only 24 hours ahead to consider the budget. Another board member, Dr. Horace Munter, also was absent.

Barney said his present feeling was not to recommend approval of the Health Department budget by the commissioners. The county provides about $30,000 of the $155,000 health budget.

* * *

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, the county commissioners met with Health Department director, Dr. James T. Googe, in a specially called closed door session to consider the matter. Dr. Googe, whose department had requested that the poor clinics be abandoned, explained that the department did not believe such medical aid was its proper business.

Governor Will Roll Up Sleeves. Work in Heat

Upon learning of Mayor Clark Jeary's request for curtailment of water use for air conditioning during the water shortage, Gov. Robert Crosby said: "I can roll up my sleeves and work in the heat until the acute shortage is over."

Execution Is Expected Sometime This Evening

Warden Sets Death For 6 p.m.

OSSINING, N. Y. (AP)—Sing Sing Warden Wilfred Denno announced that Julius and Ethel Rosenberg would be executed at 6 p.m. CST.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court and President Eisenhower doomed atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg to death in the Sing Sing electric chair.

The Supreme Court turned down three desperation defense maneuvers to stay the execution of the condemned couple.

Then Mr. Eisenhower sealed their doomed by refusing to grant executive clemency.

* * *

THERE IS no other recourse for the husband and wife team who betrayed U.S. atomic secrets to Russia.

The United States will execute the Rosenbergs a short time before the Jewish Sabbath begins Friday at sundown.

Sundown at Sing Sing is at 8:31 EDT (6:31 CST).

Word was received on the time from federal authorities who are handling the execution of the husband and wife spy team.

The warden added that the time could be changed if federal authorities wish.

The Rosenbergs' attorney told newsmen he had advised Robert L. Stern, acting federal solicitor general, that "these defendants are Jewish."

"There is a precedent that Jewish defendants not be executed on the Sabbath," he said he told Stern.

The nation's highest tribunal, by 6 to 2 vote, cancelled the stay of execution which was granted to the Rosenbergs Wednesday by Justice William O. Douglas.

Then the tribunal nailed its action by refusing later to grant a new stay and denying a motion to get the court to reconsider its authority in overruling Douglas' stay.

* * *

THE REQUEST for a new stay was made by Chief Defense Counsel Emanuel H. Bloch to give Mr. Eisenhower more time to consider the Rosenbergs' plea for executive clemency. The motion for reconsideration was made by Attorney Fyke Farmer.

The fateful ruling came with these words spoken by Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson from the high bench:

"We think further proceedings are unwarranted."

He spoke for himself and five other justices. Two dissented and one wanted more time to consider the case.

* * *

AT SING SING prison, the Rosenbergs had just completed a 90-minute visit and were at lunch when word came over the prison radio that the court had duomed them.

Joining Vinson in turning down the Rosenbergs were Justices Stanley F. Reed, Robert H. Jackson, Harold H. Burton, Tom C. Clark and Sherman Minton.

Douglas—the man who gave the Rosenbergs an extra 24 hours of life—sharply dissented. Justice Hugo L. Black joined him, challenging the authority of the full court to set aside Douglas' stay of execution. Justice Felix Frankfurter wanted more time.

Douglas had granted the stay on grounds there was a "substantial" legal question whether the Rosenbergs should have been tried, convicted and sentenced under the 1946 atomic energy law or the 1917 Espionage Act, under which they were convicted and sentenced. The 1946 law requires that the death penalty can be imposed only on recommendation of a jury. The Rosenberg jury made no recommendation.

* * *

THE MAIN issue was whether the new law superseded certain parts of the espionage law.

Vinson, speaking for the majority, said, "We do not doubt that Mr. Justice Douglas had the power to issue a stay."

But, he said, the "full court has considered the question raised on its merits. We think the question is not substantial."

"We think that further proceedings are unwarranted."

Vinson said the court had considered the legal question "on its merits" despite the fact that "it was raised and presented" by two lawyers who did not directly represent the condemned couple.

Farmer's motion asked that the court "reconsider the question of its powers to vacate Justice Douglas' stay order and to hear oral argument thereon immediately and before the adjournment of the special term of the court."

Heart of the issue was whether the death sentence was validly imposed in view of the defense contention that the atomic energy law superseded certain parts of the Espionage Act.

* * *

THE QUESTION was argued for three hours Thursday in an extra-ordinary special session of the full court. Then the justices deliberated in private for three hours before recessing until Friday—an action which automatically gave the Rosenbergs a short reprieve.

Vinson said it was not for the Supreme Court to enter into the clemency question.

Vinson then took up briefly the motion by Farmer that the court reconsider its action earlier Friday canceling Douglas' stay. He said the motion is "denied." Black also dissented on this issue.

Douglas, key figure in the entire proceedings, apparently did not record his vote.

VINSON SAID the government agreed "and we do not doubt" that Douglas had the power to issue the stay of execution to the Rosenbergs Wednesday.

However, he said, there is also no dispute that a stay can be issued only if there is "a substantial question" yet to be decided in the courts.

Vinson summarized the contention advanced on behalf of the Rosenbergs that certain parts of the Espionage Act of 1917, under which the Rosenbergs were convicted, were replaced by the Atomic Energy Act passed in 1946.

The latter statute allows a death sentence only on recommendation of a jury. The jury did not make a recommendation.

Vinson said the court did not consider this legal point to have sufficient merit to warrant a stay.

HE NOTED that the issue had not been raised by counsel for the Rosenbergs themselves, but by other attorneys. Nevertheless, he said, the court gave it full consideration.

Vinson said a full opinion by the court on the issue will be filed later in the clerk's office.

He added, that Justice Felix Frankfurter thought the legal questions raised for the first time in connection with the stay order "are complicated and novel." Frankfurter, he said, thought attorneys should have more time to study and prepare arguments so that the court might have more material on which to deliberate.

Douglas then read his dissent, with which Justice Hugo L. Black associated himself.

Douglas said he spent "quite a few more hours" studying the legal questions in the new Rosenberg appeal than had the other justices.

"Now I know I am right on the law," he said defiantly. "No man or woman should go to his death merely because his lawyer did not raise a legal question."

* * *

DOUGLAS, continuing in an emotion-laden voice, said the trial judge, Irving R. Kaufman, "had no power to impose the death penalty. I know deep in my heart that I am right on the law and, therefore, I see my duty."

Black, speaking after Douglas, challenged the authority of the full court to set aside Douglas' stay of execution.

"Surely," Black snapped, "the court is not setting the precedent of calling special sessions every time a federal official asks for it."

DOOMED COUPLE—Julius and Ethel Rosenberg had just completed a 90-minute visit, separated by a wire screen, in Sing Sing Prison, when word arrived that the Supreme Court had refused to continue their stay of execution. This photograph was taken during their trial.

Ike Tells Rhee: Get Those Escapees Back

Korean Leader Is Held Personally Responsible

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has told President Syngman Rhee he is holding him personally responsible for the release of anti-Communist Korean war prisoners, congressmen were informed.

Furthermore, it was said Eisenhower served notice on the aged and stubborn South Korean president that the U.S. and the U.N. expect South Korea to exert the utmost efforts to round up the 25,000 released prisoners.

This word was given by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to some members of the congressional Foreign Relations Committee who met with Dulles for an hour and 45 minutes at the State Department.

* * *

THE LEGISLATORS heard Dulles make clear that the administration takes an extremely serious view of the effect of the prisoner release on a Korean War truce.

Dulles, it was said, was quite pessimistic regarding chances of capturing any sizable number of the prisoners.

It was said Dulles and government officials are awaiting with deep anxiety the next meeting of the truce negotiators at Panmunjom. At that time the Communist attitude is expected to be made apparent. Officials are concerned lest the Reds use the prisoners' release as a pretext for breaking off armistice talks.

* * *

RADIO PEIPING said: "The Americans deliberately connived" at Rhee's release of the prisoners and said U.S. sincerity has been put to "an acid test."

Eisenhower, it was said, told Rhee that he viewed with extreme seriousness his order releasing the prisoners because the POW issue was the key point in the entire armistice negotiations.

The President was said to have informed Rhee that South Korea was acting as a U.N. trustee in guarding the prisoners and had violated a trust.

Dulles called the release a "violation" of Rhee's agreements. He said then that Eisenhower is communicating with Rhee.

* * *

MEANWHILE, South Korean police hrunted for a small band of escaped anti-Communist Chinese prisoners while additional American guards rushed to trouble spots near here and at Pusan.

The U.N. command anticipated new breakouts by North Korean prisoners and ordered reinforcements for guard troops now on duty.

* * *

TWO EXTRA American battalions arrived at trouble spots near Pusan.

More than 2,000 additional prisoners made a getaway from three Allied camps, bringing the number of prisoners released through orders of President Syngman Rhee to 27,000.

The U.N. said one breakou occurred near Inchon, 12 miles west of Seoul, where U.S. Army and Marine troops fought 1,500 prisoners fleeing over barbed wire fences.

President's Statement

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower in a statement expressed the fear that the Rosenbergs had "immeasurably" increased the chances of an atomic war by their treasonable actions and "may have condemned to death tens of millions of innocent people all over the world.

"The execution of two human beings is a grave matter," Mr. Eisenhower said. "But even graver is the thought of the millions of dead whose deaths may be directly attributable to what these spies have done."

Mr. Eisenhower said he is convinced the Rosenbergs received "the benefit of every safeguard which American justice can provide."

Sabrejets Get 6 MIGs

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Sabrejet pilots knocked six Communist MIG-15's out of the North Korean skies in blazing duels with Russian-made supersonic planes.

In addition to the six kills, the Sabres damaged another MIG while escorting fighter bombers hit an air field and oil dump far behind the front.

On the ground South Korean and Communist troops fought furiously on both ends of the Bulge, even though the battleline already has been fixed by officials of both sides at Panmunjom.

Six Communist companies knifed five positions in the Finger Ridge sector at the western terminus of the Bulge. At the eastern end, ROKs and Reds were stalemated at M-1 hill.

'Cool' Weather, Showers May Hit Saturday

Thundershowers were expected to develop over the east central part of Nebraska Friday night and the extreme east Saturday morning.

In addition, the weather bureau expects cooler weather over the state Saturday.

Friday night lows were expected to be around 55 in the northwest to the upper 70s in the southeast. Saturday's highs are expected to be 85 in the northwest to the 90s in the southeast.

In a five day forecast the weather bureau predicts temperatures to average from 5 to 10 degrees above normal and continued hot and humid, with precipitation averaging from .25 to .75 of an inch occurring as scattered thunder showers over the period.

Some rain fell over the state Thursday night with North Platte getting .24 of an inch, Valentine .17, Burwell .12 and Chadron .04.

Woods Estate Appraised at $3,874,242

HASTINGS—Two person we killed in the collision of an au and a semi-trailer truck near he shortly before midnight Thur day.

The victims were identified a Dennis F. Adkins, 20, marri from Huntsville, Tenn., statione at the Hastings Naval Ammun tion Depot.

Delores M. Classen, 19, daught of Mr. and Mrs. Antone Class of Glenvil.

The crash occurred on U Highway 6, about two miles e of Hastings.

Nebraska Safety Patrolmen w investigated said that Adki auto was struck from behind the truck and the auto w knocked into a ditch, and t truck crashed over the top of t auto.

Partisan Legislature Is Gaining Ground

State Chairmen of Both Parties Sponsor Petitions

Reaction to the announcement that leaders of both political parties plan a campaign to make the Nebraska Legislature partisan again seemed to show the idea was gaining ground.

The state chairmen of both parties announced a plan to circulate initiative petitions throughout the state to secure sufficient signatures so that this constitutional change may be voted on by the people in the election in the fall of 1954."

The Republican state chairman, Dave Martin of Kearney, and his opposite number in the Democratic party, William Meier of Minden, joined hands on the proposition, announced after a Lincoln meeting.

* * *

NAMED AS A committee to head the petition campaign were:

Republicans

Martin
Sam McKelvie, Valentine.
Sam Reynolds, Omaha.
John Riddell, York.
Chris Millus, Omaha.

Democrats

Meier
Paul Busch, Howells.
Hugh Riley, Fairbury.
Pat Heaton, Sidney.

The announcement brought a comment from Gov. Robert Crosby that it echoed his position since 1947.

And Sen. Earl Lee of Fremont, who has strongly defended the Unicameral idea, said he felt he was weakening "in view of this last session."

It was the 1953 session which brought the fire of the bi-partisan committee which seeks the change.

* * *

IN A STATEMENT the committee said:

"This committee has been organized in response to the widespread dissatisfaction with the session just concluded. The 1953 non-partisan Legislature broke all records for length of session, total cost of session; number of bills introduced and enacted into law; the number of lobbyists registered, there being over twice as many lobbyists as legislators, total appropriations, voting trading and a consequent lack of serious responsibility to the people of Nebraska."

But the Martin-Meier plan brought severe criticism from some quarters.

* * *

SEN. OTTO LIEBERS of Lincoln called the statement "unfair and ill-considered."

Liebers said he was angered at the accusations of "vote trading" and 'a closed club."

"I think this unicameral non-partisan system is the most effective kind we could have. I am very well satisfied with the present set-up.

"Naturally, I feel there could be improvements. Perhaps the Legislature should be enlarged to 60 or 61 because the work is too heavy for the present membership," Liebers said.

Sen. Otto Kotouc Sr., of Humboldt, flatly declared:

"It would be a mistake to change. Under the present system the Legislature is directly responsible to the people and not to any political party in power."

* * *

KOTOUC served two terms in the old bicameral Legislature as well as two terms in the present system.

"My experience in both has thoroughly sold me on the Unicameral idea. I might add that the past session sold me on its merits more than ever," Kotouc said.

New senators have also declared they have been converted to the Unicameral idea by being members of the Legislature.

In a Journal poll recently freshman Sen. Tom Coffey of Alma, Monroe Bixler of Harrison and William McHenry of Nelson said they had changed their opinions to now favoring the non-partisan idea.

SEN. TERRY CARPENTER of Scottsbluff said that there was no doubt that a partisan Legislature would be for the good of the governor.

"But would it be for the good of the people?" Carpenter asked. He sat in the partisan two-house Congress in the 1930s but said his membership of the 1953 Unicameral had convinced him of the superiority of the non-partisan system.

However, Sen. Lee said that he can see that "the non-partisan system is an awful handicap to a governor because he can't put over a program. Therefore, there's no responsibility for what gets done or isn't done."

Lee pointed out that the Unicameral system has never weathered an economic depression. This might tell the tale.

But Lee said his position could best be described as "not being as violently opposed to changing the system as I once was."

He quipped, "It looks like the politicians want to take the Legislature away from the lobbyists."

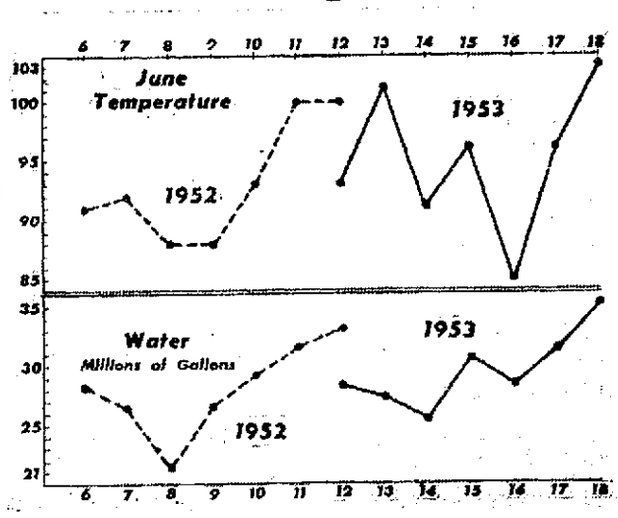
* * *

GOV. CROSBY had said he has stood for changing the plan since 1947.

But he pointed out, "I do not feel strongly enough about it to use the issue in either of my campaigns for governor.

"The most compelling reason for having it is to strengthen the two-party system. As things now stand the party which is out of office often doesn't have any official spokesmen in any branch of government. The apparent low ebb to which the party goes when out of power is in part due to the fact there is no one in a state office to be a focal point of opposition," Crosby said.

The governor admitted, however, "If I should return to the Legislature and were to consider my own personal pleasure and convenience, I would want it to remain non-partisan."



HAND IN HAND—Figures for the peak water consumption week and the corresponding daily high temperatures for 1952 and 1953 show how the heat affects water usage. The peak water consumption week in 1952 was from June 6 through June 12 and in 1953 it was from June 12 through June 18. In upper left is shown the 1952 daily high temperatures and in lower left is shown the water consumption figure for the same dates in the 1952 high week. In upper right is shown the high daily temperatures for June 12 through 18 of 1953 and the corresponding amount of water used is shown in lower right. Note that the 1952 temperatures and water consumption corresponded more closely than those of 1953 apparently because the 1953 period was preceded by a dry season. (Journal Drawing.)

Prevention Hits Home

NORTH PROIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—This town's fire prevention bureau recently declared its five fire stations as fire hazards.

Carie Robinson, Californian, Dies

Carie Robinson, 77, of Redondo Beach, Calif., died in North Platte Thursday.

Surviving are three sons, Frank B. of Lincoln, Floyd of Thedford and Ben of Redondo Beach; a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Hoffman of Redondo Beach; a sister, Mrs. Verne Miller of Omaha; two grandchildren, and a great-grandchild.

Services will be at 3:30 p.m. Saturday at Roper & Sons, the Rev. Ord Morrow officiating.

Boy Wants 'Homestead' —On Venus

A 14-year-old Lincoln youth is making preparations to be one of the first "homesteaders" when outer space is conquered.

The boy has already written to Sen. Hugh Butler (R-Neb.) asking for Congressional assistance.

In a letter handled by Butler's staff in Washington, the boy said:

"I've written the Bureau of Land Management to inquire about buying property on the planet of Venus in the event the United States should claim those lands. I received reply that it had no authority to give ownership at this time.

"I have great interest in this planet and its great possibilities. Therefore I am asking you to write a bill of some sort, something which would in the Senate further my interests.

"I am neither joking nor have I read too much science fiction. It appears that the exploration, exploitation and colonization of the universe is going to commence soon. It lso appears that in those hunks floating out in space which we call planets is wealth unthought of. It may easily rival the opening of our old West."

Butler's office would not reveal the boy's name.

Reds Take Desperate Measures To Quell East Berlin Rebellion

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet authorities invoked mass arrests, secret police terror and propaganda appeals in a desperate effort to crush a three-day revolt of anti-Communist East Germans that Russian tanks, and ummry firing-squad executions have failed to curb.

The harsh new measures were employed in the face of American, British and French protests to the Soviets against "irresponsible recourse to military force."

At least 41 Germans were reported dead and hundreds injured in the unsuccessful Communist attempts to put down the rebellion.

* * *

DEPUTY EAST GERMAN Premier Otto Nuschke, who was released from West Berlin police custody earlier, told workers the revolt was an attempted "putsch" organized by "West Berlin provocateurs" and that it would have plunged Germany into another war if it had succeeded.

Radio broadcasts hammered on the theme that "American officers" organized and directed the anti-Red revolt.

Reliable sources reported that the industrial cities of Magdeburg, Chemnitz and Halle and the Soviet occupation headquarters of Babelsberg and Potsdam were under martial law. Reports filtered in of violent riots in Leipzig, Dresden and other East German cities.

* * *

WESTERN authorities were certain the revolt was even more widespread.

West Berlin newspapers said the secret police terror and sweeping arrests have extended beyond East Berlin to many Soviet zone cities.

A German identified as Willi Goetling, described as a "foreign agent," was cut down by the bullets of a Russian firing squad under the martial law clamped on much of Red Germany to quell riots in which at least 41 Germans have been reported killed.

The Red Radio broadcast a series of "workers' resolutions" demanding punishment of the revolt's leaders, and the official Communist organ Neues Deutschland called for "harsh and determined" action against "enemies and provocateurs."

Soviet Berlin and nearby Babelsberg and Potsdam were sullenly silent under the muzzles of Russian guns.

Flood Control Early Report Seen July 1

A preliminary report by Sanitary District, city and county engineers on the first steps in carrying out flood control recommendations for the Lincoln area should be ready around July 1.

That was the forecast by Sanitary District Engineer Walter Coale. He, City Engineer D. L. Erickson and County Engineer L. W. Weaver are working on the report.

Coale told the Sanitary Board that the report, to be made jointly by the three engineers to their respective agencies, may be ready for presentation at the next Sanitary Board meeting, moved up to July 2 because of the July 4 holiday.

* * *

THE REPORT, to be followed later by one more complete, will concern what should be done first among the steps recommended in the Alvord-Burdick-Howsam flood control plan for Salt Creek, Dead Man's Run and Antelope Creek, Coale said.

It will involve preliminary estimates, more detailed than the Chicago firm made, and possibly allocation of costs, said Coale.

THE SANITARY Board, in a brief meeting, approved purchase of two small tracts in the Yankee Hill area to provide part of the right-of-way for a quartermile cutoff on Haines Branch.

Price of one, a .7 acre tract owned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Townsend, was $150. The other, a 1.23 acre area obtained from the Parker Co., cost $100. Both are southeast of the brickyard, across the Burlington tracks.

Meters Collect $13,699.34

Lincoln parking meter receipts for the month of May were $13,699.34, an average per meter of $9.81 based on 1,396 installations.

Editorial Comment and Opinion

Altogether Now—Save Water

Lincoln's steady growth and industrial development the past few years, plus the punishing weather now prevailing, have put every citizen on duty to conserve water faithfully until the crisis is past.

Use what water is necessary, is the gist of the city order, for fundamental purposes, but remember that every household can aggravate or help ease the situation. For instance, some air conditioning systems can be operated on less water than usual, while others can't. Householders should know exactly what they can do about that.

Let people living in even-numbered houses give their lawns some water on Monday, Wednesday and Friday—but not too much. Water itself can injure the grass in extreme heat, and curled leaves don't necessarily mean plants are dying, curling is part of their protective process. People in odd-numbered dwellings are to water their grass and gardens only on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Everybody should use just what is necessary, no more, on Sunday.

The man who put in new sod this year is privileged because of the hazards of this job at any time, and is asked only to be as saving as he dares.

Is this a tough schedule? It isn't nearly as severe as it would have to be if the water supply was carelessly allowed to be depleted.

A MOMENT'S THOUGHT

I John 5:12

He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life.

—Selected by Rev. Ord L. Morrow, Christian and Missionary Alliance.

Alarm Over France Grows

Unless France finds before Sunday a premier who can stay in the saddle, it will have been without a government for five weeks—without anyone who has the authority to make decisions on foreign policy or even to speak for France on international questions. The situation is all too familiar, yet it can only be increasingly dangerous to ignore, because of perceptible alterations in the world scene in the past few days. On top of the truce negotiations on one side of the world and the Russian peace offensive on the other, now come Rhee's unprecedented freeing of prisoners, and the surprise demonstrations against Russia in East Germany.

If the Bermuda conference to be attended by heads of the governments of Britain, France and the United States was important when it was planned, it is much more so now. Yet it has had to be put off until a successor to Premier Rene Mayer is in office, and the outlook isn't good.

Inability of moderate French politicians to agree among themselves at this critical juncture is beginning to alarm all of Western Europe, Anne O'Hare McCormick writes the New York Times from Rome. For without France, no co-operative decisions for the whole area can be reached, and that is exactly what the new Russian regime is trying to convince the other countries they don't need. If the paralysis of the French will and reasoning process, rooted in frantic fear of German resurgence, turns out to be completely immovable, the prospects of European recovery and all that depends on it are indeed poor.

The Right to Give

Stockholders of a New Jersey corporation objected so strenuously to a company gift of $1,500 to Princeton university, on grounds that it had no right to use their money for anything but business, that its officials went to court for a declaratory judgment. The court ruled the gift valid because it went "toward a cause which is intimately tied into the preservation of American business and the American way of life." This ruling acknowledged that corporations as well as persons would suffer if freedom were undermined, and had the same right to support the cause in which they believed. Who remembers when "soulless corporation" was virtually one word?

Who Can Beat the Dutch?

Every day at low tide a railroad stationmaster at the Dutch town of Kreiningen (and his counterpart of Oostdijk, two and a half miles away) stands at the end of the local railroad line, a table of tides in one hand, rubber boots on his feet. Nearby stand two locomotives, champing at their bits. At the signal, iron doors swing out, and a strange procession emerges. First comes a single car to reconnoiter the right-of-way, then the engines, each pulling 50 cars, finally a train hauling sand. All this craft has just two hours to make the round trip between the two towns, since for the rest of the day the tracks are under water, sometimes six feet deep. Water streams in and out through the dam wrecked by the mammoth flood of Feb. 1.

This flood almost destroyed the rail lines, and they have been slowly rebuilt, by two-hour snatches of work. A local supervisor was struck with the idea of running trains on a like schedule, and persuaded the line to build a low dam on each side of the new track. Except for that, there wouldn't even be two hours a day in which trains could run. Chugging along at six miles an hour, behind the pilot car whose men keep a sharp eye out for jetsam on the track while the engineers watch for a signalman in the attic window of a flooded house, to tell them the tide is still out, the trains have so far avoided a dunking.

The inventive supervisor has had a promotion and the whole Dutch rail system basks in more than local approval. The moral, if any, is that despite the tremendous growth of electrical devices, from pencil sharpener to TV, railroaders go on meeting nature's challenges by improvising procedures. This has been going on since shortly after young Isaac Watt noticed the steam bumping the lid of his mother's teakettle, and isn't going to be superannuated right away.

Walter Lippmann

Mold of European Policy Is Broken

The Bermuda meeting, we must now realize, will have to examine a much greater problem than the well known and over-advertised and artificially inflated differences among the Western allies. For the real trouble is not that we have some disagreements in the Far East. It is that for the European situation which is now rapidly developing we have severally and jointly no policy at all.

Lippmann

The world has outgrown the European policy which we worked out in the crises which became acute in 1947. Our European policy is no longer related to the movements of events and it is radically out of touch with the opinions and sentiments of the European peoples. Forced upon us by the bitter cruelties of the Stalinist empire, the policy was an improvisation for an emergency. It was designed to contain the expansion of a barbarous conquest which already had half of Europe in its grip. In no serious and practical sense has the policy ever contemplated either the liberation of Eastern Europe or the recession of the Stalinist empire.

The policy is indeed founded upon the working assumption that the partition of Germany and of Europe will continue indefinitely. The military and political institutions set up to defend the Western part of Europe, and to make this fragmentary Europe workable and liveable, have required a high state of tension. Without a fear of Soviet aggression great enough to override all other feelings, the peoples would not have made the sacrifices of their personal convenience, their class and national interests, that the policy has called for.

Situation Changing

For more than a year it has been increasingly plain that the situation was changing and that the policy, which had been necessary for the emergency, could become a dangerous liability if for any reason the emergency passed.

Even before Stalin's death a mass support of the policy grew feebler and virtually disappeared. That was the belief that the Soviet was intending and planning the military conquest of Europe. The disappearance of this belief, which has been sanctioned by men like Churchill himself, has been the operative cause of the rejection in Europe of our principal projects, such as the Lisbon program for NATO, the hurried rearmament of Germany, the European Defense Community. All have withered on the vine because the sap which nourished them, the fear of military conquest, had ceased to run.

* * *

The rejection of the projects, with which we have so unwisely identified ourselves so much too zealously, has brought with it serious political trouble for the men and the parties who have supported our policies. The first to go down was Schuman in France. In Italy the Center coalition under de Gasperi has grown much weaker since 1948—as one Italian put it, because the people were now voting as they felt and no

to any serious action by the Soviet Union to bring about the unification of Germany.

Now against the imminent breakdown of the existing West European diplomatic structure, there exists—so far as I can discover—no replacement, no substitute, no second line of diplomatic defense. In Washington, in Paris, even I believe in London except as Churchill is playing by ear, in Rome and in Bonn, there is apparently no policy, no planning, not even some leading idea, on what to do in case the Soviets have decided to bring about the unification of Germany and the enormous consequences which would follow, such as the evacuation of Austria and some lifting of the Iron Curtain to restore contact with Eastern Europe.

* * *

Obvious Explanations

There are plenty of obvious explanations for this failure to look forward and to get ready for new eventualities. There are very strong vested interests which have grown up around the American subsidies and expenditures in Western Europe; they do not gladly contemplate any important change. There are vested interests of an idealistic character having made some progress towards federation in the Western part of the continent, the men behind these projects do not relish the notion of rethinking their plans in order to make a place in Europe for a united Germany, much less for countries east of Germany.

There is an allied bureaucracy built up for the emergency which prefers the accepted stereotypes to the pains and uncertainties of a new policy for a new situation. And then, of course, last but by no means least, there is the shellshock of our diplomats abroad, who are stunned by the terror and humiliation to which they are subjected. Intimidated men do not think well. Men beaten down do not look to the horizon. Intimidated men do not even see well what is immediately before them.

Yet it is imperative that the Western allies who are going to Bermuda should form a policy which is founded, not on the partition of Europe but, on the ending of the partition of Europe. The mold of our present European policy is broken. No amount of exhortation or threats of the ending of subsidies can repair and restore it. The popular tides in Western Europe and the actions in Eastern Europe coming from the new regime in Moscow, are releasing new forces all over Europe. They cannot be led by the existing formulae, they cannot be regulated by the existing rules and plans. They will get entirely out of hand—as against any constructive influence we can hope to exert—if in place of the contracted and dismembered Europe we now support we are unable to propose a true all-European system.

* * *

Now the time has come when the opportunity may be presented to us to promote by agreement the substantial liberation of Eastern Europe within an all-European system. It is an opportunity which, were it missed, might never be presented to us again. For the Europeans will find some other way to end the monstrosity of their partition. That way may not be with

MORE OR LESS PERSONAL
— A Chat with the EDITOR —

While denunciation of Syngman Rhee was the order of the day, George Weller, Lincoln Journal-Chicago Daily News correspondent at the United Nations headquarters in New York, took note of some of the "quiet voices in the corners" that were pleading Korea's cause.

* * *

The result is one of the best-balanced analyses, so far, of the meaning of Rhee's coup in releasing 25,400 anti-Communist North Korean prisoners of war.

* * *

Weller points out that originally these anti-Communists surrendered to the U.N. in order to get a chance to fight against Communism. "Instead, they were locked up in prison camps and offered, under the U.N. truce, as targets for a Communist redemption campaign." Now they get their chance, in Rhee's plan at least, to fight in the South Korean army.

* * *

Some of the facts "lost in the chorus of pious reproof":

—The Communists already did months ago what Rhee has just done, that is, look their South Korean prisoners and put them into the Red Army to fight their way into good standing.

Two Sides To It

—The anti-Communist North Korean prisoners were supposed, under the terms of the armistice, to choose freely which side they preferred. They have chosen, using the method sanctified by Lenin, of "voting with their feet." The escape may be a way of refusing to hear the repatriation propaganda being prepared by the Communist parties of North Korea and China, and of rejecting the U.N. formula for peace.

—Rhee's coup, while perfidious from a U.N. point of view, because it removes the best bargaining pawn away from the West, may turn useful in the end. Russian and Chinese experts in the service of the West have already warned that exposing these anti-Communist prisoners to second doses of the dogma they had already rejected is harmless to the spirit of rebellion manifest in places like the Czech factories and the streets of East Berlin. Rhee, in fact, has jumped ahead of the dilatory West in making an army of backslid Communists.

* * *

That is the most favorable view of the strange development. On the other side of the picture is the obvious fact that the action was, in effect, an open revolt against the U.N. command, defiance of Korea's allies, and repudiation of President Eisenhower's proferred assistance following an armistice.

* * *

The 15 Allied Powers have a genuine grievance against Rhee on these three points listed by Weller:

—The basis for truce and armistice has been damaged—though possibly to the advantage of the West in the end.

—The prospect of linking Indo-China into a general peace settlement with the Chinese Reds has been diminished.

—There is now half as much bait on the hook intended to recover some 12,000 Allied prisoners held by the Reds.

* * *

Meanwhile one of the saddest things about this colossal foul-up, over and above the peril in which it has placed the truce talks, is that American troops with the impossible assignment of rounding up the released prisoners, should be shooting down anti-Communists, freed without the U.N.'s seal of approval, simply so that at some later date they may be freed the U.N. way.

* * *

It is one of the strangest of all chapters in man's long struggle for freedom and peace, and a reminder that human freedom, an intricately balanced compound, is one of the most explosive.

It's Just a Gag

Indianapolis Star: The Cominform still organizes, in contravention of the Soviet-American treaty of recognition made by President Roosevelt, Communist conspiracies against the United States and every other free nation in the world. In South America, Kremlin-directed Communist agents seek to stir up discontent, revolt, and anti-Americanism. Every attempt possible is being made by international Communist organizations to disrupt the economic and political stability of the free world in the interests of the Communist international revolution. Where does one find "peace" in all this?

Utterly Stupid

LINCOLN—Three things are utterly stupid: daylight saving time, suppression of Communist authorized books and Communism itself.

B. C. CARTER

A Community Center

LINCOLN—In regard to the problem of the auditorium location and for providing for a new City Hall and a new Courthouse, why would it not be a good idea to use the block where the present Courthouse stands and to annex three more blocks adjoining taking in one block south of J Street on 10th and two blocks on 9th directly to the rear thus creating a community center for the erection of the buildings on the 10th Street frontage and the two blocks on 9th to the rear to provide for parking area.

The properties could be taken over and annexed in the same manner as the University of Nebraska campus has been expanded. It appears that a community center with ample parking area would be of great advantage in bringing conventions to Lincoln and drawing people from outside the city to the attractions offered in the auditorium. The location is near enough to the civic center and could be made very beautiful and attractive and could be advertised as the Get Together Center of the middle west or something appropriate along that line. The Courthouse area offers the advantages of being on a direct route for traffic coming into the city from the east, west, north and south highways.

The cost of this program should not be prohibitive and by proper management it could be made self-liquidating over a term of years.

Knee High

WEEPING WATER—I enjoyed the picture, "Knee High Before the 4th of July." Our little boy John Dean is also four years old and was in the corn field measuring the heighth of the corn as little Lois Jean Brauer in the picture. John Dean said, "Mother look the corn is just about four years old."

MRS. ALVIN GROESSER

Pay Their Share

TOBIAS—R. George Meininger (Public Mind, June 17) stated that Sen. Coffey was king bee. I wonder if he doesn't realize there are more large trucking firms on the road besides Coffey's, only their owners do not happen to be senators.

A common car owner, who never owned a truck, doesn't stop to think how much gas is consumed in a day by one truck alone. So put all the trucks on the road together for just one day, you couldn't begin to estimate the number of gallons of gas used.

I don't think there is any other business in the state that buys more gas, which already has had another cent added to it, than the truckers. And if the tax money which is for the road funds isn't used to fix them, why blame the truckers? They certainly pay their share in gas tax besides all the other fees that are being hung around their necks.

MRS. HENRY ROHR

Tax Propaganda

AUBURN—Our good governor reports his tax propaganda is swinging the people to his side. And he is probably right, for if you tell the same thing often enough and loud enough, someone is bound to agree with you. But let us consider what one taxpayer says:

"It is very nice to sit at a nice shiny desk in Lincoln and figure out what taxes should be all over the state. No doubt it looks very convincing on paper. But one thing that is never mentioned is, that no matter whose real estate it is or how valued, taxes are too blankety blank high. I own a good house, 20 years old, and the taxes last year were approximately $130.00. Now that is too blankety blank much tax for any house and if the valuations are raised (and they are) it will be worse. My son is a G.I and has just bought a house. Is it right to raise his taxes? The Omaha assessor did exactly right and the people should support him"

And another taxpayer says: "Our governor is a splendid man but he has discovered that, as governor, he has a lot of power, and he likes it. He is going to cram his program down the people's throats whether they like it or not. I don't know how he is going to sleep nights after raising taxes on the G.I. boys. Just another case of once elected, the public be hanged."

To which might be added that though he may not be aware of it, the governor is employing a political trick as old as time. Get the people mad at each other, then raise taxes. In the confusion, each group of taxpayers will blame the other. Here we see the farmers being set against the townfolk, the customers against the merchants.

The governor takes a noble stand, he is willing to sacrifice himself for "justice." That is fine and no one would particularly care if he were the only one involved but unfortunately tempers are rising, friendships are being broken and an all around bad situation is developing. And it will be the small home owner who get the worst of it.

The merchants will pass the increased taxes to their customers and the landlords to their tenants, but the small home owner will be the goat as usual. And while the farmers are angrily demanding taxes be raised on the city folk and the merchants, they should remember that in the end they themselves will help pay the city taxes, through what they buy, as they do right now.

Disunity is what the governor is banking on to put his tax increase program across. When the taxpayers learn not to swallow the propaganda put out, and stay united, then the politicians will be stymied and taxes will go down.

And how about raising the G.I.'s valuations? Is that right?

Questions Raised by Rhee's Overt Action

By PETER LISARGOR
Lincoln Journal-Chicago Daily News Foreign Service

WASHINGTON—The fog of dismay and disbelief created by the prisoner snafu in Korea has cleared enough to confront officials here with certain inescapable questions.

Only one fact was crystal clear: President Syngman Rhee's estate had hit rock bottom.

Lisagor

Nobody doubted that Rhee was capable of causing trouble with his bellicose attitude, wild threats and flamboyant resistance to the truce terms.

But that he would take such an overt action as releasing some 25,000 anti-Communist North Korean prisoners on the eve of an expected armistice shocked official Washington.

The questions being asked were:

Whose decision was it to leave the PW camps guarded by South Korean troops responsive to Rhee's orders?

How could the U.N. command assure the uneasy Swiss about a week ago that it was in control of the PW's, only to be exposed so palpably by Rhee's act?

Was Gen. Mark W. Clark responsible for a "calculated risk," or was the U.N. commander acting with the approval of officials here?

* * *

A First-rate Snafu

OFFICIALS MAINTAINED silence, except for Secretary of State Dulles public statement that Rhee had violated the authority of the U.N. command and private admissions that a first-rate snafu had occurred jeopardizing the truce.

What effect President Eisenhower's protest to Rhee will have on the truce negotiations was uncertain. Only the Communist side held the answer to that one. But it is believed that the President's action, plus other reassurances, might relieve the anxieties expressed by Switzerland, Sweden and India, three of the proposed members of the neutral nations commission.

It was Switzerland that first raised doubts about control of the PW's Rhee's belligerence had led the Swiss to doubt the wisdom of serving as one of the repatriation nations.

But once assured the prisoners were effectively controlled by the U.N. command, the Swiss waived their objections.

As one informed foreign source here points out, Swiss forces consist solely of volunteers—civilians from all walks of life. And they properly had asked themselves why they should take the risks implicit in Rhee's threats to carry on the war alone.

* * *

Gen. Clark's Warning

A STORY FROM TOKYO that Gen. Clark had warned Washington that President Rhee might undertake to wreck the armistice by releasing the North Korean PW's was reported here to be substantially correct.

Clark was reported to have sent some U.S. troops from Japan to stand in reserve against this responsibility.

But whether Clark had the authority to replace ROK guards with Americans to insure against an escape or unilateral release was still lost in the official silence.

If the release of the prisoners serves to destroy chances for a truce, it is deemed as almost certain that demands will be made to fix responsibility for the situation.

One senator, Robert C. Hendrickson (R-NJ) already has called for the armed services committee to investigate to determine "American culpability" for the escaped prisoners.

It would belabor the obvious to mention that the truce talks were stalemated for many months over the question of how the anti-Communist prisoners would be repatriated, and came unstuck only after the formula had been worked out to settle that issue.

ROBERT S. ALLEN Reports

A Compromise Plan for China in U.N.

WASHINGTON — The National Security Council is studying a proposal that would open the way for Red China to be admitted to the United Nations.

Under the compromise the Peiping regime would get limited U. N. membership.

Allen

This problem is the most difficult and explosive facing the Administration in the post-war period. It will be a crucial issue at both the "Big Three" meeting in Bermuda late this month and at the political conference that will follow the Korean truce. To prepare for these momentous showdowns, President Eisenhower directed his chief policy advisers to formulate possible courses of action.

The compromise plan was submitted by the State Department, although it did not originate there.

The real author is Australia, which, like the U. S., has refused to extend diplomatic recognition to Red China. The formula was first proposed to then-Secretary of State Acheson by Australian Ambassador Percy Spender last June.

Acheson refused to consider it. He took the position that no thought could be given the issue until the Korean war was ended.

Main provisions of the Australian compromise are as follows:

Admit Red China to the General Assembly but not to the key Security Council.

Remove Nationalist China from the Security Council and limit its U. N. membership to the General Assembly as the representative of the government of Formosa "and such other countries as Chiang Kai-Shek may become head of."

Red China, in exchange for being admitted to the General Assembly where it would have equal standing with the Nationalists, would be required to do three things: (1) Accept a U. N. plan for the unification of Korea, (2) agree to cease all aggression in Southeast Asia, and (3) recognize the Formosa government.

Crux of the Australian plan is the contention that the controlling question is not whether Red China should be permitted to join the U. N. but the nature of its admittance.

Australia is firmly opposed to allowing Peiping to enter the Security Council, with its strangling veto power. But Australia holds that if peace can be procured in the Far East by granting Red China membership in the General Council, this concession would be worth the price.

That is the argument now being weighed in the National Security Council, the top policy agency of the government.

CUTTING DOWN—The Navy is getting set to hold an unusual "surplus goods" sale.

Due to budget pruning the Navy will ground its two giant RV Lockheed Constitutions and put them up for purchase by the highest bidder.

The 92-ton double-deck transports are the largest of their kind in the world. They can carry 168 passengers and a crew of 12. Ordered in 1943, the planes have had four years' service as part of the Fleet Logistic Air Wing. Many flights have been made carrying personnel and supplies to Korea. The Navy will dispose of the two huge transports as part of the economizing imposed under an $85 million reduction in aircraft funds.

Also slated to be cancelled is the construction of 122 F3H Demon jets, one of the fastest Navy fighters.

THE ONCE OVER By H. I. Phillips

A Most Revolutionary TV Program

The recent two-hour TV show to mark the 50th Anniversary of the Ford Company was epochal in more ways than one, and still has America pretty excited. At first it had us pretty confused. We had no idea it was to be the most revolutionary TV program in history, a program sponsored by a big-business corporation without a single interruption for a commercial! Unaccustomed to TV without a sales pitch, we had settled in the usual groove for one, and for a time we got the idea that the story presented was this:

H. I. Phillips

Henry Ford, born of poor parents upstairs over the Variety office, moved to Detroit with a troupe of song writers and began his business career in a little bicycle shop run by Ethel Merman on Lake Michigan just off 32nd Street near Lindy's Resaturant. He got the idea of a horseless carriage from Oscar Hammerstein and developed it by working nights in the old Winter Garden with Mary Martin, who in those days known as the 999, and steered with a tiller. Hammerstein, at that time wrote by horse and buggy.

* * *

We gathered that, before fooling around with the horseless carriage, Henry worked in some sort of a dancing carnival with Wally Cox, who was at that time in "Birth of a Nation" with Theda Bara and Lowell Thomas. Henry developed a good car by the light of a kerosene lamp held by Eddie Fisher, who was one of the Fisher Brothers, and his first backers were Kukla, Fran & Ollie, who later interested Leland Hayward.

At that time Hayward operated on one cylinder and had prestolite tanks. They withdrew on account of "Alexander's Ragtime Band," and Henry was about to abandon his car and join the Shuberts when a millionaire named Sinatra came to the rescue, putting in a lot of money and four songs.

* * *

Henry soon put his first car on the streets of Detroit and called it the "Model Vullee," after a man named Bing Crosby, who used to be known as Valentino. Henry said he would produce a car to be sold to the masses for $500. "My car will be so successful," Henry said, "that some day I can afford to hire Ethel Merman and Mary Martin on the same program and not pass the dividend. Not only that but I shall build an empire with so much money it can make 'I Love Lucy' give up the Monday night hour."

* * *

Just about that time the program began to jell and get pretty wonderful. Suddenly we realized that Ford was not giving us any story of the Ford Company, making a sales pitch or insulting the intelligence of TV audiences by the usual business routines. It was Kukla and the dragon who gave us the tipoff. "Video has not grown up," said Ollie. "Maybe it will tonight," said the dragon. And by golly it DID! No commercials, no plugs, no jingles, no interruptions every few minutes to urge us to drop everything and buy a Ford NOW. It was just about the best show we had ever seen on TV, despite the two-hour stretch. It flabbergasted us. And it must have flaggergasted all the moneyed sponsors of TV entertainment. All these years they have been proceeding under the impression the audience had to be conked over the head and slugged from behind with annoying, boresome and wholly inane sales talks. Well whaddya know!!!

Unseasonable Heat Shrivels Wheat

By JACK HART
Journal Staff Writer

Unseasonably hot weather and a shortage of storage facilities are causing concern for Nebraska wheat farmers

Hot weather already has caused some shriveling of wheat, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported More hot, dry weather could cause serious damage, it added

And with the prospect that some wheat in the state will have to be stored on the ground, it still was not certain whether Nebraskans will be eligible for government loans on ground storage wheat

* * *

SUCH ARRANGEMENT has been made for "arid areas of the Southwest" but an official of the grain branch of the Production and Marketing Administration in Washington said that it had not yet been decided whether this will include Nebraska He added that an announcement on the matter is expected soon

With the harvest expected to begin in the southeastern part of the state about the middle of next week wheat growers are hoping for some rain and cool weather to slow the ripening of their grain

"The heat is forcing maturity of the grain before it is ready" a spokesman of the division explained Wheat is turning an unnatural bleached white rather than the usual golden color"

* * *

LANCASTER COUNTY Agent V H Petersen said "there is no question the heat has caused shrinkage by drying the grain too fast"

While some scattered harvesting is possible in Lancaster County by the last of next week Petersen does not expect it to begin in force in the area until about July 1

Petersen pointed out that the dry weather has had a beneficial aspect in helping curb stem rust which had started on wheat during the humid weather of a week ago

* * *

REPORTING that terminal warehouse space will be very short, the state PMA office says the farmer will be "on his own to arrange storage"

Wheat raisers should try immediately to arrange warehouse storage, a spokesman said If that cannot be done, they should provide storage on their farms, he added

PMA OFFICIALS stressed that more effort will have to be placed on farm storage

'I don't see what will prevent the necessity of some wheat being stored on the ground," one official stated

The federal government has agreed to loan money, through local PMA offices for construction of farm storage facilities Four-year loans for 80 per cent of the cost of the structure or 45 cents for each bushel stored whichever is the smaller, are available

An expected ample supply of box cars appeared to be the only encouraging point in the wheat picture

* * *

HARRY KING, rate specialist for the State Railway Commission, reported the box car outlook is optimistic His opinion was shared by George Henson, terminal superintendent for the Burlington Railroad in Lincoln

Henson said that 3,000 box cars have been sent out to handle the harvest-time load He said that 20 new box cars are being built every day at the company's Havelock shops This is part of a building program scheduled to continue until December 1, Henson said

King said that while grain stored by the Commodity Credit Corporation is still being moved, it is expected to be out of the way in time to move the present crop

C & NW Asks Service Halt At Exeter

Discontinuance of agency service at Exeter has been asked by the Chicago and Northwestern Railway.

In a motion filed with the Nebraska Railway Commission the railroad said the small volume of business, most of it in carload shipments, does not justify continuance of full agency service

The railroad wants to substitute caretaker service at Exeter which is on its branch line from Platte Center to Superior There are no passenger trains on the line

Submitted was a comparison of shipments, which the railroad said showed movements by rail both into and out of Exeter are declining

The business for Exeter can be adequately handled at nearby Geneva, the railroad contends

He said 'The problem of insect rodent and bird contamination is fast becoming the sole responsibility of grain producers and country grain dealers"

Scientists Will Blanket O'Neill Site

SANTA BARBARA, Calif (AP) A large scale investigation of turbulence in the lower atmosphere will be undertaken by Air Force and other researchers in the plains area near O'Neill, Neb , this summer, a research scientist reported Friday

A quarter of a square mile of level terrain near the little town will be blanketed with instruments while helicopters and balloons aloft will release great clouds of chemical smoke whose movements will be minutely recorded to tell the story of little air currents

E L Eaton, geophysicist of the Air Force Cambridge Research Center, Cambridge, Mass , told reporters about the project at a meeting here of the American Meterological Society

More than a dozen university and government agencies will take part The recording will be done during August and September, Eaton said Turbulence in the air nearest the earth is of importance in the operation of guided missiles, chemical warfare, weather forecasting and aviation

Movements in the air up to 5 000 feet will be observed and recorded One phase of the project will be to examine minutely the behavior of air 50 to 100 feet above the ground

Egypt Is Proclaimed Republic

Naguib Serves As President

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt's military rulers proclaimed their nation a republic, ending the 148-year-old dynasty of former King Farouk and his forebears and installing Premier-Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib as the country's first president.

Gen. Naguib

The Army Revolutionary Council, which dethroned Farouk last July, announced three of its members were taking over key Cabinet posts.

The Council's proclamation said Naguib would serve as president and premier until the end of the three-year "transitional period" set up early this year.

* * *

AFTER THAT, the proclamation continued, "the people will have the last word in choosing the shape of the republic, designating a new president when a plebiscite on the constitution takes place."

Eventual proclamation of the republic had been expected since a strong tide of anti-monarchist feeling broke into the open with the departure of Farouk. The change was recommended almost unanimously by a commission which has been working on the draft of a new constitution.

* * *

THE PROCLAMATION stripped Fuad II, 17-month-old son of Farouk, of his title as King, and all his royal relatives of their titles as well. A regency had exercised the baby's nominal authority here since he was proclaimed monarch on his father's abdication.

All members of the royal family were declared commoners.

Fuad II was the 11th nominal ruler in the dynasty founded by Mohammed Ali, an Albanian soldier of fortune.

Two Await Sentencing For Part in Robbery

OMAHA (AP) — Two Fremont men await sentencing after pleading guilty to complicity in the $14,000 robbery April 29 of the Citizens State Bank of Decatur.

Charles F. Dryden, 26, and Francis L. Jensen, 19, pleaded guilty before Federal Judge James A. Donohoe to charges of being accessories after the fact in the robbery. Judge Donohoe deferred sentence.

Refinery Just Opened to Use Nebraska Oil

PHILLIPSBURG, Kan. (AP)—An estimated 10,000 persons were in Phillipsburg for ceremonies dedicating $3.5 million worth of new facilities at the co-operative refinery there which will use Nebraska crude oil.

The refinery is operated by the nine-state Consumers Co-operative Association, headed by Howard A. Cowden of Kansas City.

Dedication activities featured a mile-long parade, tours of the greatly expanded plant, and a barbecue.

Cowden said the Phillipsburg refinery "is an important part of the business operations of thousands of farmers."

The northwestern Kansas plant, first co-operative refinery in the world, now has through its expansion a catalytic cracking unit and a 48-mile pipeline which taps the Platte Pipeline Company's line at Holdrege, Neb., making available crude oil from Wyoming, western Nebraska and northeastern Colorado.

The plant now employs 165 men.

Kansan Heads Masonic Group

PLATTSMOUTH (AP) — Virdon Liston of Wichita, Kan. was elected president of the Masonic Home Executives of the United States at the conclusion of a three-day meeting here.

Luther F. Morgan of Veachland, Ky., was named vice president and Lewis C. Robertson of St. Louis, was named secretary-treasurer.

The group selected Harrisburg, Pa., for its 1954 convention site.

Delegates were in Fremont after the convention's close for a tour of the Mason-Eastern Star home for children there.

MARINE AIDS POW—A U.S. Marine leads an injured prisoner of war from the compound of POW Camp 10 at Ascom, city near Inchon, South Korea, after marines and soldiers stopped a breakout by POWs after an estimated 494 escaped. Gunfire stopped others. Armistice talks were endangered by the escape of some 26,000 POWs as the result of orders from South Korean President Syngman Rhee. (AP Wirephoto Via Radio From Tokyo.)

Beatrice City Council Is Working on Budget

Special to The Journal

BEATRICE—The City Council of Beatrice is working on the 1953-54 budget.

Tentative requests of $75,000 have been made by the Board of Public Works and $14,385 by the Library Board.

The budget must be completed by July 1. Last year's budget was $385,000.

Liberty, a Precious Gift, Often Abused in Practice

The Sunday School Lesson for June 21 is: "The Practice of Christian Liberty." Galatians 5:13-18; 6:2-10.

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

In the Epistle to the Galatians Paul set forth in memorable terms the cause of Christian liberty, which he held to be utterly essential to spiritual growth.

Once having taken this position, Paul found himself confronted with another problem.

Sunday School Lesson

Liberty is all very well provided that it is exercised within the limits of decorum and loving consideration for others. But certain early Christian believers maintained that Christian liberty meant freedom to do anything they wanted to do.

This, of course, was a monstrous perversion of the true doctrine of Christian liberty.

* * *

"Ye were called for freedom," writes Paul to the Galatians; "only use not your freedom for an occasion to the flesh, but through love be servants one to another." Then Paul went on to show that selfish, unbridled liberty is a violation of the commandment, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

Christ has made men free, but He has made them free to follow Him and not to destroy the kingdom of love and righteousness which He came to establish. What always happens in the case of true converts—whether it be in the first Christian century or in the 20th—is that men who find Christ, experience release from the bondage of their own worst impulses.

Liberty always puts a great responsibility both upon the citizen and upon the Christian.

The Christian who believes that Christian liberty justifies him in any course of action which meets his fancy, brings scandal on the Church and becomes unworthy of the sacred name he bears. The Christian is to live by the Spirit; and if he lives by the Spirit, then he must walk by the Spirit. If he walks by the Spirit, then he walks the pathway which the Master of man established centuries ago.

Sin is a bondage which keeps a man from the free exercise of his will; Christian grace is the power which makes him free to be what he knows he ought to be.

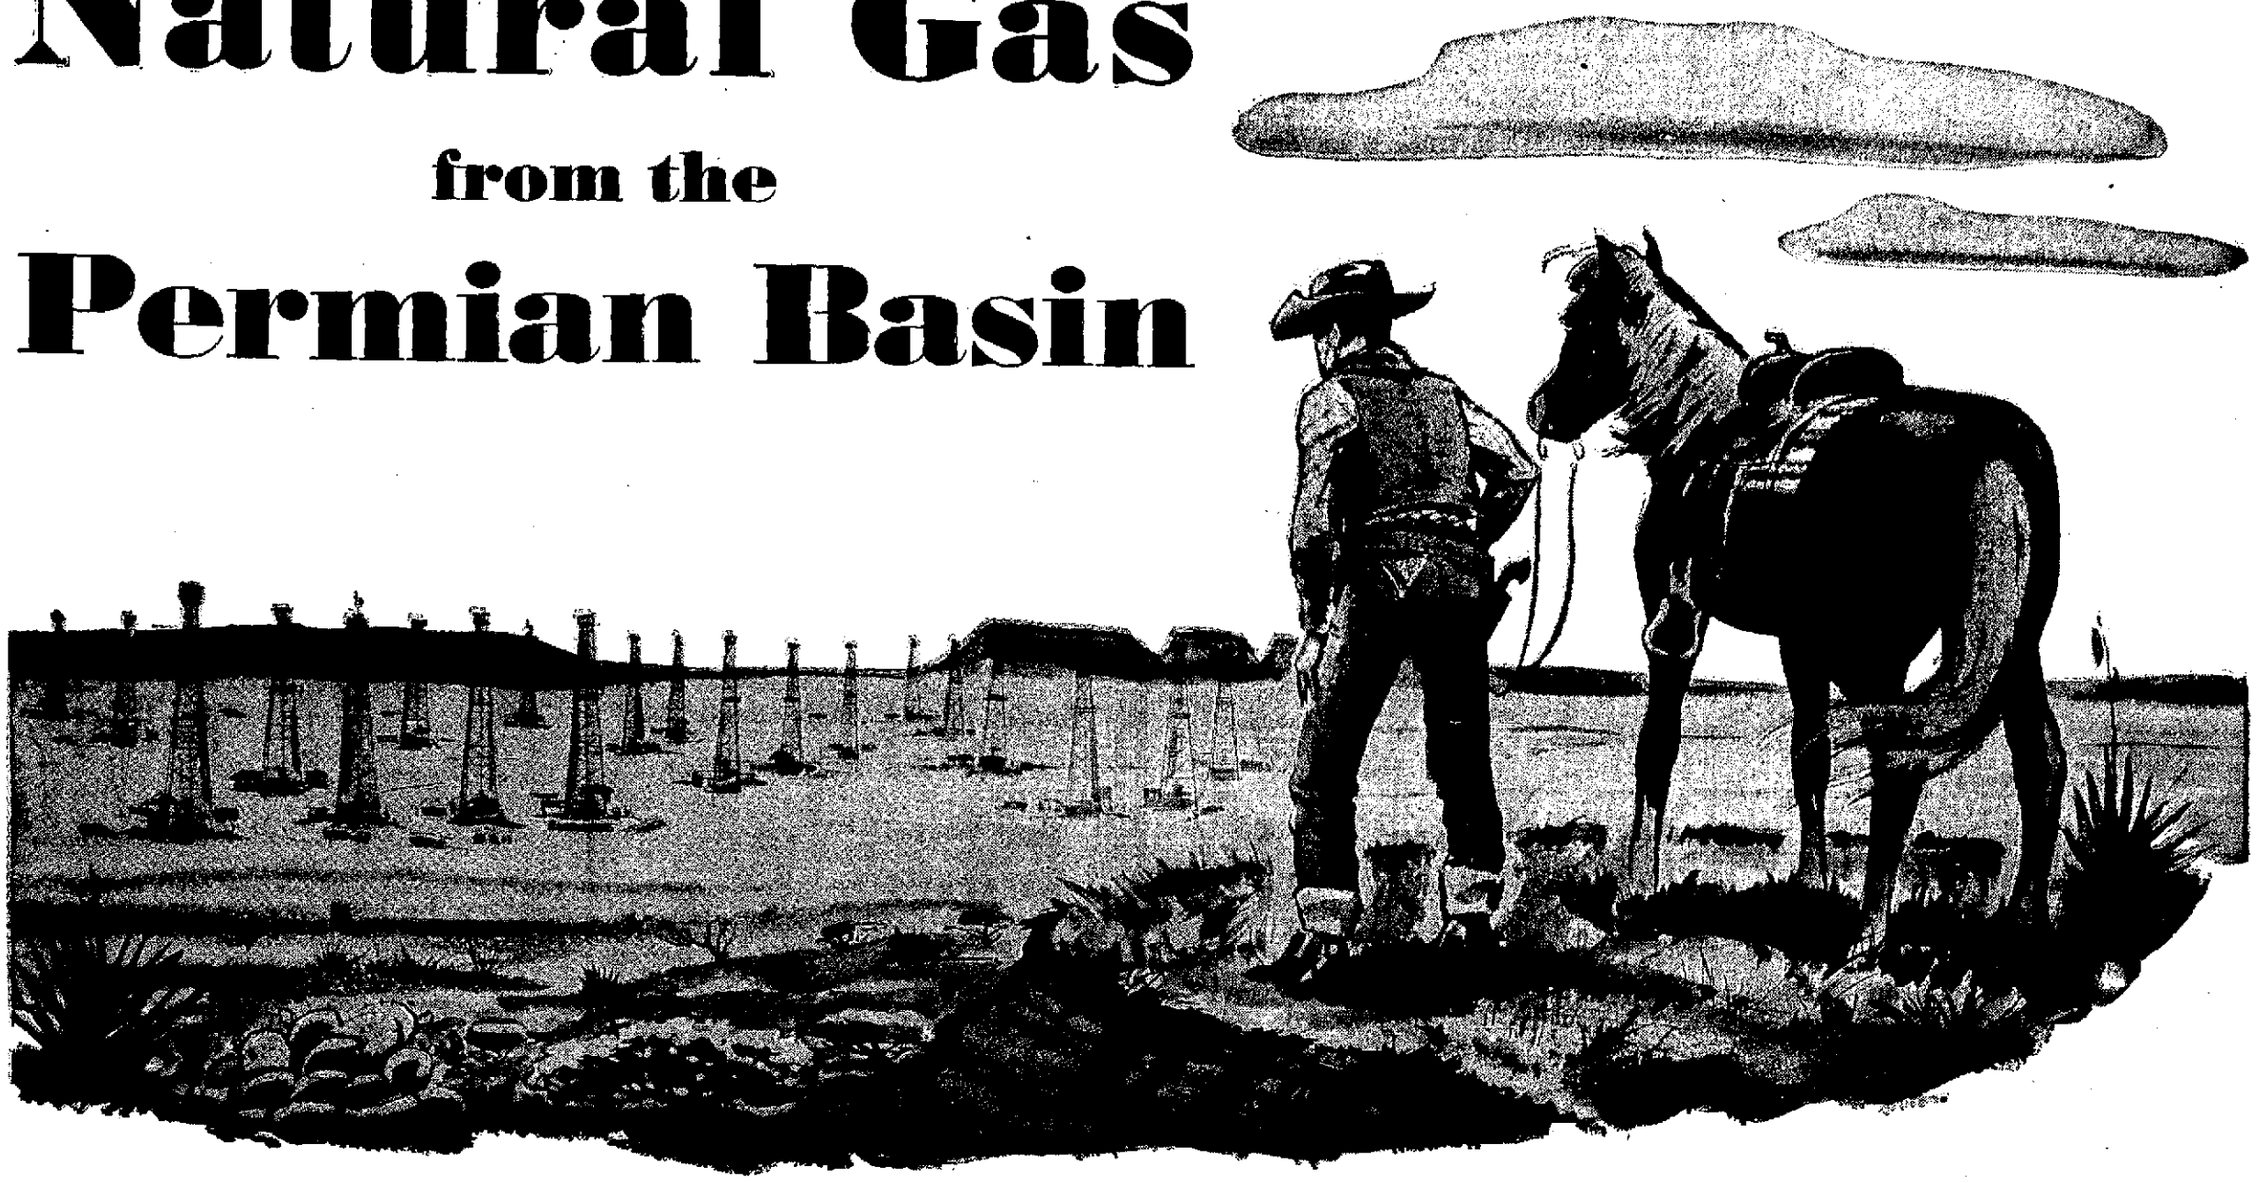
Natural Gas from the Permian Basin



Coming Soon...Natural Gas from the Famed Pecos River Country of the Southwest...North All the Way to the Land of 10,000 Lakes

Soon . . . thanks to a modern miracle of industry and engineering . . . natural gas will flow through giant pipelines from the famed Pecos River country of Texas and New Mexico . . . north to the corn lands of Iowa and Nebraska . . . north even to Minnesota's land of 10,000 lakes.

The Federal Power Commission has now approved Northern Natural Gas Company's plans which involve over 100 million dollars of new pipeline construction . . . construction which will make it possible for the first time to bring gas from the vast Permian Basin of the southwest to cities and towns of this North Central area.

More Gas for Home Heating

For centuries, natural gas has gathered in great pools beneath the sagebrush and yucca flats of the Pecos River valley. Gas from these great natural reservoirs, known as the Permian Basin, is expected to be available by the end of this year to heat homes against the cold blasts of Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota winters.

Gas from the Permian Basin will increase Northern's pipeline capacity by more than one-third. It will enable Northern to supply all present requests from local utilities for additional natural gas in communities now being served.

Four Times as Much Gas

When Northern's Permian Basin construction is completed in 1954, Northern will be able to supply four times as much natural gas as at the end of World War II.

Northern will continue its efforts to bring your local utility company all the natural gas you need.

Ex-Judge's Influence Worldwide

Ex-City Judge Teaches Police Of Many Nations

Edward C. Fisher, who twice won recognition for Nebraska's capital city through excellences of traffic procedures in Municipal Court, has a world-wide glimpse of traffic nowadays.

The man who was known to motorists as "Judge Fisher" is now associate counsel for the Northwestern Traffic Institute at Evanston, Ill.

* * *

IN PREPARATION is his newest book, treating traffic laws of the 48 states, the District of Columbia, and the American territories and dependencies. It is a book that will amplify on a national scale, the same simple traffic problems and laws that furnished a theme for his earlier book, "People's Court." Fisher wrote "People's Court" out of more than 2 years' experience in the Municipal Court at Lincoln.

Its publication by Northwestern University Traffic Institute in 1947 gave him first contact with the institute that now entrusts him with all teaching of legal phases of law enforcement work to police, state patrolmen, peace officers and armed forces personnel.

* * *

GRADUATES from China, Turkey, Honolulu, Iceland and Canadian Mounties have been among his students.

"Traffic situations seem the same the world over," said Fisher.

He recalled that only a short time before leaving Evanstown for his summer visit in Lincoln, he'd answered legal queries from Denmark and Holland.

* * *

WITH MRS. FISHER and the children, Carole, 16, and Joel, 14—he's visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Fisher, 916 So. 33rd, and his sister, Mrs. Chester Beckwith, 3633 D.

"Training police in legal phases of traffic law enforcement is our biggest work," said Fisher.

The institute started out in 1936, with two staff members assisting Col. Franklin N. Kreml of the Evanston Police Department, who saw that police officers needed special instruction to do traffic law enforcement work effectively.

"Now," said Judge Fisher, "there are between 40 and 50 on the staff."

TEACHES TRAFFIC—Edward C. Fisher, formerly judge of Lincoln's Municipal Court, now trains police from 48 states and foreign countries. (Story at left).

Patrolman's Wife Gets Financial Aid

NORTH PLATTE (AP)—A check for $3,407.62 was presented to Mrs. Vernon Rolfs, widow of a slain Nebraska Highway Patrol officer.

The money was contributed to a fund drive contributed by the North Platte Telegraph-Bulletin.

Patrolman Rolfs was shot to death May 30 after he had arrested James Leroy Fish, 27, for speeding. Fish later admitted to authorities he shot the officer.

The Telegraph-Bulletin initiated the fund to aid the family, which had incurred heavy debts with the purchase of a home. Rolfs is survived by his widow and two teen-age children.

Blair Firm Wins Contract

BLAIR (AP)—The Korshoj Construction Co. of Blair, was awarded a $31,097 contract by the Army Engineers to raise the right bank of the Nisnabotna River levee near Hamburg, Ia.

Police Ready For July 4th

City fireworks regulations have been explained to Lincoln police in preparation for the 4th of July.

Police have been instructed to confiscate any fireworks set off except during the week of June 28-July 4, and to book the offenders for court.

The list of fireworks to be permitted during the week of the 28th is as follows:

Sparklers, vesuvius and spray fountains, torches, color fire cones, star and comet type color arerial shells without explosive charges for the purpose of making noise and color wheels.

Toy caps containing not more than 25/100 gram of explosive may be used at any time.

First Richardson County Polio Case Reported

FALLS CITY (AP)—Richardson County's first polio case of the season has been reported.

Gwendolyn Koester, 7, of Falls City, has been placed in the isolation ward at Lincoln General Hospital.

Kirsch Awarded Honorary Degree

Recipient of an honorary Doctor's Degree in fine arts from Grinnell College at Grinnell, Ia., is Dwight Kirsch, formerly director of the art galleries at Morrill Hall, University of Nebraska.

Dr. Kirsch, now director of the Des Moines Art Center, was recognized by Grinnel College as a ranking artist as well as educator and curator and as one who "has won wide recognition for developing in the general public an open-minded attitude toward art and an enthusiasm for better understanding of the use of art."

Butterfly Cakes

Quick and simple to make, French Butterfly Cakes delight mid-afternoon callers when served with cups of refreshing fruit punch and nuts.

French Butterfly Cakes

2 cups sifted enriched flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup new-type shortening
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 eggs
Mocha frosting
Chopped nuts

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and granulated sugar. Add brown sugar, shortening and 2/3 cup milk. Mix to blend. Beat two minutes at medium speed on electric mixer or 300 strokes by hand. Add remaining milk, vanilla extract and eggs. Mix to blend. Beat two minutes or 300 strokes longer. Spoon batter into greased or paper-lined muffin cups. Bake in moderate oven (375 F.) about 25 minutes. When cool, frost with Mocha frosting or make "butterflies."

To make "butterflies," cut center from cupcake about one inch deep to form cone. Cut cone in half. Fill indentation in cupcake with Mocha frosting. Replace cut out cone with points toward center to form "wings." Spoon a small amount of the frosting over center. Sprinkle with chopped nuts.

Mocha Frosting

⅓ cup melted butter or margarine
2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
3 tablespoons strong coffee
3 tablespoons shredded chocolate (½ ounce)
¾ teaspoon vanilla extract

Combine ingredients in order given and mix until smooth.

Top Knot Protection

The beauty-wise girl knows that a creme rinse is top-knot protection against summer sun ravages. The hair conditioning action of creme rinse before sun bathing lessens the drying effects of Ol' Sol. After a day at the beach, creme rinsing rids tresses of sand and perspiration ordor, leaving locks manageable and freshly fragrant.

Glamor Specs

The old gag "men don't make passes at girls who wear glasses" is completely out dated. Spectacles are now considered a fashion and beauty asset. Women are proud to wear them and choose them with as much care as they choose a hat, both for shape and color.

Leoma Maahs Wed at Walton

WALTON—Miss Leoma Marie Maahs was married to Stanley E. Winch on Sunday at Trinity Lutheran Church. The Rev. D. F. Luebke read the lines of the 8 p.m. candlelight service. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence O. Maahs and Mr. Winch's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Winch of Roca.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace and net with long chapel train. A coronation crown of seed pearls held her finger-tip veil and she carried an empire bouquet of white roses.

Miss Joyce Branscom was the maid of honor and Miss Arlene Winch and Mrs. Eugene Maahs bridesmaids. Miss Ruth Ann Kettelhut of Bennet and Miss Janet Block of Roca lighted the candles.

Wayne Honnor of Lincoln was best man, and ushering were Eugene Maahs and Marvin Krueger of Roca.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony.

On their return from a wedding trip to Colorado Mr. and Mrs. Winch will settle on a farm near Roca.

Fresh Orange Frosting

Mix the juice and grated peel of an orange with powdered sugar. Arrange sections of orange on top of cake and pour this sauce over all. Delicious.

Flavor Tip

Lemon juice and melted butter spark up flavor when served over cooked asparagus, string or lima beans or spinach.

From two cities to two continents

In a brief twenty-five years! Braniff's come a long way from that short Oklahoma City-to-Tulsa hop in 1928. Today, instead of two cities, it's seventy-two. Instead of one state, it's fifteen—and eight Latin American countries.

Instead of a four-passenger Stinson, it's a whole fleet of luxury DC-6s, DC-4s and Super Convair 340s. Instead of three pioneers, it's more than four thousand carefully trained men and women.

Now behind every flight is an enviable record of over two billion passenger miles flown in complete safety—and a reputation for the finest, friendliest service on two continents. The most experienced travelers in the Americas are flying Braniff. Be sure your next trip's by Braniff, too!

NCAA Track Extravaganza Opens To day

Trojan Tracksters May Win 6 Firsts in Meet

Nebraska has been invaded by a swarm of Southern California Trojans—numbering 11.

They constitute the SC track and field varsity which is favored to annex another NCAA title and may capture six first places in a meet that draws the best collegiate athletes from all parts of the U.S.A.

There also is a possibility that several world records will be set by some of them in the twilight activities because the Lincoln track is acknowledged as fast and it will be the last meet in which Parry O'Brien, Sim Iness and Jack Davis compete in a Cardinal and Gold uniform.

• • •

THE NEXT appearance of Troy's Big Three will be as representatives of the Pacific Coast Conference against Big Ten stars at Ann Arbor. After that they join the Los Angeles Athletic Club in quest of the National AAU flag.

O'Brien, who already has his world record for '53, hopes to improve upon his best of all-time, 59 feet, 2¼. Iness has been the hard luck kid of the trio in his attempt to break the global mark for the discus throw.

Twice in practice he has thrown the saucer farther than is listed in the record books, but in midspring he slipped on a rug and wrecked a knee. Then last Saturday night in a meet at Stockton he was hit in the mouth by a discus, lost two teeth and had seven others loosened. Several stitches were still on the inside of his mouth as he caught the plane for the meet.

Three times this year Jack Davis has been timed in 13.6 for the 120 high hurdles. That is only one-tenth of a second off the best ever, established by Dick Attlesey when he was running for Southern California.

Last week Davis proved that he is approaching his best form in the 220 low hurdles when he skimmed the route in 22.8, a tenth off the NCAA record for this race. One of these days Jack may break the world mark for the event, now held by Harrison Dillard at 22.3. He may do this because he is just as great a sprinter as he is a hurdler.

• • •

WITH THOSE four firsts all but in the bag, Coach Mortensen has declared there are possibilities of two more. Jim Lea seems to be the best collegiate quartermiler around and his teammate Verle Sorgen might be second best.

Lea has run under 47 flat a couple of times this year while anchoring mile relay teams and is capable of a 21 flat or better in the furlong. Sorgen's best recorded time with a standing start for a lap is 47.6.

There's a big IF as to the sixth possibility for a first. It all depends upon Ernie Shelton who Mortensen declares will set a new world's record of 7 feet or higher before his college days are ended.

At the moment he has climbed no higher than 6 feet 8½, he has not been under 6 feet 7 in his last four starts. That's rather consistent for a high jumper . . . and a sophomore at that.

Not too much is expected of Joe Graffio, a 9.7 sprinter or of Manuel Ronquillo, a 6 feet 6 high jumper. But Willard Wright, who has run the high hurdles in 14.2 this year, and Leon Clarke a low stick comer with a time of 23 6 are expected to score.

Dick Genther, added as the eleventh man on the team, might edge into the point column if at his best in the javelin. That best for the year is 202 feet 3⅛.

Field Is Brilliant For 2-Day Meet; Prelims Advanced

By DICK BECKER
Journal Sports Writer

Cheered by forecasts of good weather and awed by the brilliance of the field, fans from the midwest will assemble at the University of Nebraska's Memorial Stadium Friday for the opening day of the 1953 National Collegiate Track and Field Championships.

The two-day meet, featuring the elite in college cinder circles, will have preliminaries in 10 events Friday and finals in all 14 events Saturday.

Friday's preliminary events will start earlier than expected.

Due to large fields in the 440 and 100 yard dashes there will be preliminaries and semifinals in those two events. The 440 preliminaries will start at 5 and the 100 at 6.

Saturday the pole vault will begin at 5 and the high jump at 5:30.

It was also decided to run the 880-yard run preliminaries Olympic style, that is without starting blocks, all runners using a standing start. There will be nine men in each of two heats.

In one of the most heralded meets in several years the fans will follow eagerly the bids of:

Wes Santee of Kansas for a mile run record.

Parry O'Brien of Southern California for a 60-foot shotput toss.

Santee and Lang Stanley of San Jose State for a new half-mile mark.

Sim Iness of Southern California for a new world's mark in the discus.

Thane Baker of Kansas State for a double win in the 220 and 440-yard dashes, a feat never before accomplished with the possibility of a new 440 record.

Charley Capozzoli of Georgetown in the two-mile run.

• • •

THE WEATHERMAN predicts a good week end for the collegiates.

The temperature is expected to drop down to the mid-80s by evening Friday and the wind will shift to the north and is expected to ease slightly.

A possibility of scattered showers Saturday is very slight and the bureau reported that if there are showers they will be minor and won't hurt the running of the meet.

• • •

SEVENTY-FOUR schools have entered the meet with Southern California a heavy favorite to cop its fifth straight team title. The west coast school—bolstered by Olympians Iness, O'Brien and Jack Davis—may take six first place medals. It would be the second time in the 32 years of the events this feat has been accomplished.

The Trojans had 66 7/12 points in winning last year. Of this total 56 are back on this year's squad of 11 men.

Iness, who was struck in the face with a discus last week, has been working out and is reported okay for Friday's competition.

Hoping to press the Californians for the team trophy are Illinois, Kansas and possibly California.

Kansas is banking on Santee for firsts in the mile and 880 with help coming from Art Dalzell in the 880, John Reiderer in the 440, Don Smith in the 400 and low hurdles, Norm Steanson in the pole vault and Jim Swim in the javelin.

Illinois is led by sprinter Willie Williams.

The coaches association met Friday night and made all heat assignments for Friday's preliminaries.

Nebraska is represented by a nine-man squad which has Glenn Beerline, broad jump; Cliff Dale, shotput and discus; Paul Grimm, shotput; Ladd Hanscom, broad jump; Brien Hendricksen, 220; Jim Hofstetter, pole vault; Larry Smith, discuss; and Jim Sommers, pole vault.

IT WAS decided to run the magic mile in one section Saturday. There are 20 certain entries with five more probables. The games committee expects to have about 18 to 20 entries at starting time.

Charley Capozzoli, Georgetown's vaunted distance ace, was scratched in the mile to concentrate on the two-mile run.

The pole vault will start at 5 p.m. Friday and the high jump was moved up to 5:30. All other events will run on the original schedule.

Brutus Hamilton, chairman of the games committee, said that all the coaches who had looked over the Husker layout were "loud in their praise for the setup and were pleased with all the fine preparations that had been made."

'Nothing to Say'

Coach Bill Easton of Kansas said Thursday night he "had nothing to say" over reports that the NCAA was studying the case of Wes Santee's eligibility.

In Lawrence, Kan., Arthur C. Lonberg, KU athletic director, said he had heard the Santee's eligibility for NCAA competition was under study but as far as he knew "there has been no ruling on it."

Lonberg commented on reports from Los Angeles that the eligibility of the Kansas speedster was questioned on the grounds he competed as a freshman in the National AAU meet in 1951.

Apparently if this meet is charged against Santee it will affect only his competition in the NCAA meet next year and won't have anything to do with his Big Seven activities. He is a junior this year.

Husker-Oregon Game to Be TV'd

By COOPER ROLLOW
Journal Sports Writer

The Nebraska-Oregon football game Sept. 19 in Lincoln is one of 11 college grid tilts to be televised over a 12-week span next fall.

Announcement of television's football schedule for the 1953 season was released in New York Friday by the National Broadcasting Company.

General Motors will telecast 11 complete college football games, including the Husker-Oregon opener, and parts of eight others over a 12-week span starting Sept. 19.

• • •

TWICE DURING the season NBC will present "panoramas" instead of a full game. On these days, four games are on the schedule. Cameras will be trained on all four at the same time, and a director will put on the air highlights of each tilt as the action progresses.

Dates of the panoramic telecasts, or 'TV Games of the Week," are Oct. 24 and Nov. 7.

George (Potsy) Clark, University of Nebraska athletic director, said Friday he is "delighted" that the Husker-Oregon game will be beamed to a nationwide audience.

Nebraska University officials pointed out that NU will not fare so well financially, however, as many schools outside the Big Seven Conference with games being televised.

That is because the Nebraska half of the TV game receipts must be divided equally among all Big Seven members, according to a conference policy adopted last summer.

• • •

TELEVISION receipts for a single game figure up to around $100,000. Nebraska's share of the check for the Oregon tilt, thusly, would be one-seventh of $50,000, or roughly $7,000.

Only once before in history has a Husker grid contest been seen by a national video audience.

That was the 1951 game with Colorado, won handily by the visiting Buffaloes, 36-14.

In 1948 and 1949, before the NCAA placed restrictions on the telecasting of football games, Husker home tilts were carried by WOW-TV in Omaha.

TWO OTHER games involving Big Seven teams are included in the NCAA video program for 1953.

The Oklahoma-Texas contest on Oct. 10 will be telecast in full.

Parts of the Kansas State-Kansas encounter Nov. 27 will be shown under the four-game panoramic plan.

The NCAA has approved the telecast slate to be carried on 81 NBC stations from coast to coast.

Here's the full schedule:

Sept. 19—Oregon at Nebraska
Sept. 26—Holy Cross at Dartmouth.
Oct. 3—Ohio State at California.
Oct. 10—Oklahoma at Texas
Oct. 17—Tennessee at Alabama
Oct. 24—Four-game panoramic coverage Cornell at Princeton, Arkansas and Mississippi at Memphis, Syracuse at Illinois, Indiana at Iowa
Oct. 31—Pittsburgh at Minnesota
Nov. 27—Four-game panoramic coverage: Georgia at Florida at Jacksonville, North Carolina at South Carolina, Wisconsin at Northwestern, Kansas State at Kansas
Nov. 14—Michigan at Michigan State
Nov. 21—Southern California at UCLA.
Nov. 26—Thanksgiving Day—Brigham Young at Utah
Nov. 28—Army-Navy at Philadelphia
Dec. 5—Southern Methodist at Notre Dame.

Olson Gets Strong Nod

NEW YORK (INS)—Carl (Bobo) Olson of Honolulu and San Francisco was a strong favorite to whip Paddy Young of New York in a scheduled 15-rounder at Madison Square Garden tonight for the American middleweight title.

The winner is supposed to fight Randy Turpin of England in September for the world championship.

A crowd of 8,000 is expected to watch the Olson-Young bout, which will be nationally televised as well. The International Boxing Club expects a "live" gate of around $38,000.

Both fighters are 24 years old, but Olson has the more impressive record. He has lost only five of 57 professional fights.

Hillcrest Ladies Day Held

Mrs. R. G. Olds was the Class A winner at the Hillcrest Ladies Day held Thursday. Event of the day was least fairway shots.

Other winners included Mrs. Vic Sloan in Class B, Mrs. W. C. DeVriendt in Class C and Mrs. Harold Gease in Class D.

Hamilton Tells Of Olympics

Brutus Hamilton, athletic director at the University of California, described the 1952 Olympics to a Public Affairs Luncheon gathering at the Chamber of Commerce Friday noon.

Hamilton took time to pay tribute to Henry F. (Indian) Schulte, former Nebraska coach whose foresight led to the fine track at the University of Nebraska which attracts the finest in the sport."

"If I had to choose one word to describe the 1952 Olympics at Helsinki," Hamilton said, "it would be 'graciousness.' The graciousness of the Finnish people, the graciousness of the athletes from 70 nations and the running of the event without a single bad incident."

Honored were many of the athletes and coaches here for the 1953 National Collegiate Track and Field Championships Friday and Saturday. Included were Southern California's Parry O'Brien and Sim Iness and Kansas State's Thane Baker.

Dr. Walter Beggs gave a welcome for the university while Earl Luff, president of the chamber, spoke for that group. Also introduced were George (Potsy) Clark of the university and Dr. Norm Carlson, head of the chamber's sports committee. Elsworth DuTeau was toastmaster.

The Cubs' home field, Wrigley, has the longest right field fence in the National loop. It measures just 353 feet down the line.

Huge Bosox Inning Sets Seven Marks

Compiled From News Wires

The Red Sox virtually rewrote the baseball record book while lacerating the lowly Detroit Tigers for 17 runs in Thursday's epic seventh inning during a tilt which saw Boston win, 23-3.

Seven modern major league records were broken and three tied.

"We've just set baseball back 2,000 years," wisecracked Boston catcher Sammy White.

What the Tigers had to say about it, only they know. There were rumors dooming the immediate future of their hapless manager, Freddie Hutchinson. Joe Gordon, Billy Hitchcock and even Dom DiMaggio, who retired from the Red Sox last month, were mentioned as likely successors for Hutchinson.

IN OTHER American League play, Chicago defeated Washington 8 to 4, with six runs in the ninth inning.

In the National League the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers continued to aid Milwaukee maintain their loop lead by eliminating each other. The Cards took the fifth of nine games this season from the Dodgers, 12-4. This made a sweep of the St. Louis series for the Birds.

Milwaukee was rained out of their game with Philadelphia.

The Chicago Cubs moved within two percentage points of getting out of the cellar, as they whipped Pittsburgh 8 to 4, and New York beat Cincinnati, 6-3.

Fremont Blasts Columbus In PNL; Kearney Is Victor

FREMONT—Manager My Draemel pounded out two home runs here Thursday night as the Freas the Fremont Nite Hawks swamped Columbus, 11-1. The win put Fremont back in first place in the Pioneer Nite League.

Columbus starter Dick Geier, victim of his own wildness, suffered his first league loss after issuing a double to George Gribble, a pair of walks and Draemel's first homer in the first with two mates aboard. Bill Jensen paced Columbus batters with three hits in three trips.

Chiefs Win, 9-3

Neill Paces Attack

Bruins Series Even at 1-All

By WALT DOBBINS
Journal Sports Editor

With Tom Neill leading the hitting parade and veteran Glenn McQuillen batting 'em in, our Chiefs snapped out of their doldrums Thursday night to even the series with the Des Moines Bruins at one-all. The final count was 9-3.

Our Chiefs got to Starter Don Vike in the first inning when Danny Holden walked and went on around on singles by Tom Neill and Moose Womack.

TWO WALKS and the first of four errors contributed by Shortstop Dave Cunningham and Neill's second single gave the home clan a pair in the third.

Des Moines got to Norm Brown for a run in the Bruins' half of the fifth but the Chiefs came right back to salt away the ball game in the same canto. Two walks, two Bruin boots and Walt Linden's single turned the trick.

Albie Plain took over for our guests and was the victim of the Chiefs' wrath in the sixth when McQuillen doubled in two tallies and then chalked up on Cunningham's fourth boot.

Des Moines got single runs in the seventh and eighth and threatened only briefly in the ninth when Rivich booted Tappe's roller and Caro overthrew the bag on the same play.

Only 542 customers were on hand but the attendance this season is still slightly ahead of last year at this point by less than 400 paid admissions.

Norm Brown notched his eighth win against five losses while holding the Bruins to six scattered hits.

I May Be Wrong

By Walt Dobbins
Journal Sports Editor

I was all set to take a few digs at the Chiefs—and then they walloped the Bruins 9-3 at the Sherman Field arena Thursday night.

Some of the points I had in mind, however, still bear comment.

No baseball team, for example, can expect to get anywhere if it doesn't win at home. To date the Chiefs have won 13 while losing 21 games here. Lincoln's record on the road is eight victories against 14 defeats.

What's wrong with the Chiefs and what's keeping the fans at home?

In answer to the first part of the question, the Chiefs lack speed on the field and on the base paths. They lack "color." In order to make up for this deficiency they need robust hitting.

That is another element the club lacks. There is no home run clouter on the roster.

The lack of "color" and home run hitting—plus the defeats at home are largely responsible for the fans remaining away. Other reasons are television, competitive sports attractions and fewer entertainment dollars in the average fellow's pocketbook.

Lack of Speed Costly

Lack of speed in the outfield has been costly. Danny Holden is not a centerfielder. If Lincoln could have kept Jack Daniels, Manager Finney would have been able to use Holden in right and alternate his two veterans, Neill and McQuillen in left. At least he could rest them occasionally.

Lou Finney hasn't been a popular manager with the fans but in his defense I would say that he can't hit, think and run for his men.

Lou has been criticized for not bunting oftener. This was especially true after Andy Cohen, Denver skipper, used the sacrifice to such success in the Bears' last appearance here.

What Would You Do?

Let's take a concrete example.

In a recent game with Sioux City with the Soos leading 6-5 and Lincoln batting in the seventh, Tom Neill led off with a single. McQuillen was the next batter. Should Lou have ordered McQuillen to lay the ball down?

McQuillen is Finney's only .300 hitter. Neill is slow of foot. Finney decided to order Mac to hit. That McQuillen forced Neill at second is beside the point.

In the first place it would have taken a perfect bunt to advance Neill. Now suppose that is just what happened. Neill would have been on second with Womack coming up.

The (Moose) has been in a bad hitting slump so there was no reason to believe that he would knock the cover off the ball and score Neill from second.

What actually happened is that Womack walked. Rivich was next up. He flied out to deep right and McQuillen, who had forced Neill at second, went to third after the catch. Jack Caro flied out to end the inning.

When you have neither speed nor hitting there isn't much masterminding a manager can do.

In the matter of changing pitchers Finney hasn't had much choice. His starters have been Bob Mathieson, Norm Brown, (Buzz) Bell and Fred Waters. His relievers have been Bill Denney, Andy Bush and Wright. Vance Carlson has seen little service.

The string of doubleheaders has been tough on the pitching staff and hard on the veterans.

The long home stand hasn't been profitable on the field or at the box office.

Maybe things will look brighter when we take to the road again.

Pueblo Battling For Second Spot

By United Press

Third-place Pueblo made a clean sweep of their three-game series by beating the second-place Denver Bears, 9-6, in 11 innings Thursday night and now stand just two games out of the No. 2 spot in the Western League.

League-leading Colorado Springs dropped a close one when Wichita won, 2-1, and Sioux City drubbed Omaha, 13-3.

Board Considers Cutting City Water Bond Tenure

There's a possibility that water bond tenure may be shortened from 35 to 30 years.

This and other problems concerning water plant expansion were discussed at an informal conference between Byron Dunn, advisory board chairman; Mayor Clark Jeary, Finance Director Theo. Berg and Public Works Director D. L. Erickson.

The ball will be rolling soon. Here are some probabilities:

1. Appearance in Lincoln of a representative of Chapman & Cutler, Chicago bond experts, to gather data for the bond ordinance to be prepared by that firm at the home office.
2. Erickson may contact two local engineering firms as to their willingness to participate in some of the work. City engineers will do all advance work on the big trunk main from Ashland.
3. Kansas City engineering firm of Black & Veatch, possessed of the entire local background, may be used on some exploration work on well sites and equipment.
4. Bond prospectus may be prepared by city officials.
5. After the bond program is set up, an outline may be submitted to committee of local banking concerns.

Erickson faces some construction problems, one being right-of-way for the new trunk. The existing main parallels the Burlington right-of-way to the north of the highway. The new trunk will go to the south side. Jeary points out that no one can tell the width of the pavement 30 or 40 years hence.

Northeast High Students Win Elks Awards

Six Northeast High School students were named winners of six scholarship awards presented by the Lincoln Elks Lodge.

Competition was among students from all Lincoln high schools.

Margaret Powell and Norvan Holverson were awarded the $150 scholarships to the University of Nebraska, given annually by the Elks.

A new award, for youth leadership and based entirely on school activities, was given to four others. In the girls' division, Joan Marshall received $75 for first place and Arlys Reitz, $25 for second. Bob Cook won $75 to top the boys' division and Eugene Klum won $25 for second.

Cook also won $100 in state competition, and has been entered in a national contest.

Hogs Up 50c; Heifers, Fed Steers Down

OMAHA (AP)—Hog receipts fell off sharply on the Omaha market Friday and prices moved 25-50 cents higher. A poor demand for grassy and short-fed steers and heifers gave these a low price tendency. Few sheep were offered, with the price steady to weak.

OMAHA

Hogs: Salable Friday 1,700, very active, general market 25-50c higher, however, outlet for sows over 100 lbs considerably narrowed from earlier this week, choice 180-240 lb butchers $24.75@25.25, very large supply at $25; 240-270 lbs $24.50@25.00; 270-300 lbs $23.50@24.75; 300-330 lbs $22.00@23.50; choice 270-300 lb sows $22.50@23.00; 300-360 lbs $22.00@23.00; 360-400 lbs $20.25@22.25; 400-450 lbs $19.50@20.75; 450-550 lbs. $18.50@20.00, sags $11.00@18.00.

Cattle: Salable 300, calves 25; limited fresh receipts increased by a sizable showing of utility to good light weight steers and heifers from earlier in the week, fed steers and fed heifers of choice grade steady, lower grades slow, weak in a peddling trade, cows, bulls and vealers generally steady to weak; stocker and feeder classes hard to move at weak prices, 1 load choice fed steers $21, short load choice heifers $20; scattered sales utility to low good steers and heifers $12.00@17.00, few utility to commercial cows $10.25@12.50, canners and cutters $8.00@10.00, choice vealers quotable upward to $21.

Sheep: Salable 125, active; slaughter lambs and ewes steady to weak; few good and choice native spring slaughter lambs $23.00@26.50, cull to good slaughter ewes $3.00@4.75.

American Stores Sets Sales Record

PHILADELPHIA — American Stores Co. reported sales of $542,035,133 for the fiscal year ended last March 28, a record, and 4 per cent above the preceding year.

Earnings rose slightly to $5,083,677, or $3.90 a share, from $5,054,268, equal to $3.88 a share, a year earlier. The total for the fiscal year just ended includes a net gain of 19 cents a share on sale and retirement of plant and equipment. But in the preceding year, earnings were benefited to the extent of 35 cents a share by an excess profits tax carry-back credit.

The company, the nations' fifth largest retail food chain, closed 162 of its older stores last year and opened 43 new self-service supermarkets. At the fiscal year-end there were 1,289 stores in operation, compared with 1,408 a year earlier.

An American Stores packing plant is located in Lincoln, Neb.

William Park, president, said expenditures for additions and improvements to plant and equipment during the past five years amounted to $41,339,159.

American Stores Co. and subsidiaries report for the fiscal year ended March 28:

Milk-to-Producer Price May Rise

Indications point toward a hike in the price of milk to producers in the Lincoln area within the next month, resulting from a seasonal shortage in volume, the Iowa-Nebraska Co-operative Milk Producers Association said.

The change is not likely to result in a higher price to consumers, since it will merely offset a slight seasonal drop in price which preceded it, a spokesman for the association said.

Divorce Case Is Reversed By High Court

The Nebraska Supreme Court has reversed a Lancaster District Court decision in a divorce action brought by Mrs. Martha Deweese Ivaldy of Lincoln

The reversal was on grounds that proper notice of the filing of the suit had not been served on the defendant, Fernand Philippe Ivaldy

But the high court said the case should not be dismissed "but returned to district court and there appellant (Ivaldy) given a reasonable time to answer and the cause set down for trial so appellant may have his day in court"

MRS. IVALDY filed divorce proceedings on Feb 19, 1952

At that time Ivaldy, in the foreign service of the U. S government, was not in this country

So a Thomas R Webb of Paris made service for the Lancaster County sheriff by leaving a copy of the summons at the residence of Ivaldy in Paris on March 3, 1952.

On April 16, 1952, no appearance had been made by Ivaldy and a decree was entered in the Lancaster District Court awarding Mrs Ivaldy an absolute divorce and granting her custody of their four minor children

But on April 24, 1952, attorneys for Ivaldy appeared to object and asked the court to "quash the pretended service" upon him.

* * *

IVALDY'S contentions were that the service did not comply with the statutes of Nebraska, that the address in France was not actually Ivaldy's address on March 3, 1952, and that the method used by Webb "did not constitute leaving a copy of the summons threat within the meaning of the statute"

The court overruled all of Ivaldy's motions and he appealed

The Supreme Court said that the law on service is clear and must be complied with "No person shall be entitled to a divorce unless the defendant shall have either been sreved with process in person if within this state (or) have been served with personal notice . . . if out of this state . . ."

Air Force Cutting Back Plane Press Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force, in a reversal of past policy, has decided to cut back its multi-million dollar program to build heavy presses capable of mass producing airplane parts

The $389 million program, first laid down in 1951, called for construction of 17 of the massive presses which exert from 8 000 to 50,000 tons of pressure Under the revised program, the number to be completed will be reduced to 10

Segment of Aorta Is Transplanted

CHICAGO (AP) — Two Houston doctors told how they successfully transplanted a segment of the aorta, the body's great main artery, from a dead man to a 46-year-old county sheriff

The aorta segment was taken from the dead man two hours after he died It was kept in a salt solution containing streptomycin and penicillin and was transplanted into the sheriff's body six days later in an operation that took almost five hours

Neither the sheriff nor his 21-year-old dead benefactor were identified

Drs Michael E Debakey and Denton A Cooley, both connected with the Baylor University Medical College, told of the case in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Grain Grading School Held For Buyers

Nebraska's first grain grading school for country grain buyers drew 90 rural elevator operators and 25 others at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture

Designed after a program carried on in recent years in Kansas, the school was the first of two in the state

North Platte will be the site Friday for a similar school for operators in Western Nebraska.

* * *

THE OPERATORS heard a review of official grain grading standards, watched demonstrations of grain sampling, testing and degrading factors and heard a discussion of elevator sanitation measures, insects and the effect of noxious weed seed content on the sale of grain

A grain grading school, using selected wheat samples, was held Closing the day's program was a field trip to small grain research and demonstration plots at the agriculture experiment station in Lincoln

* * *

LEADING discussions and demonstrations were

Willis B Combs USDA extension grain marketing specialist from Chicago

Chase Allred University agronomy and grain grading instructor

Dr Virgil Johnson university wheat research agronomist

Dr Ephriam Hixson, associate director of College of Agriculture resident instruction

Grain inspectors from Omaha, Lincoln and Grand Island were also present.

Sponsors of the school were:

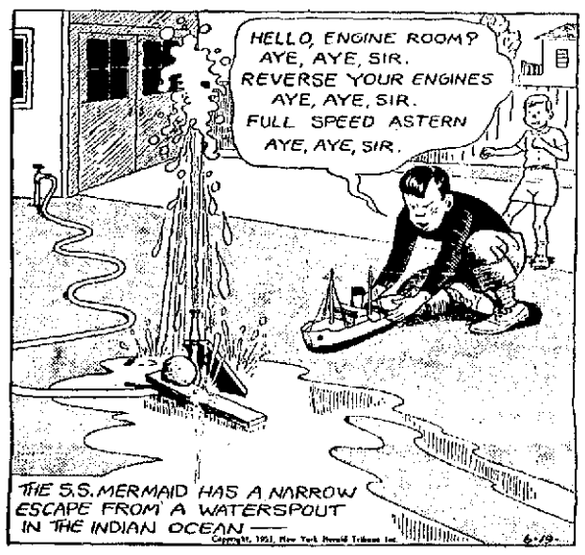
Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime By Webster-Roth



LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

BY ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D.Sc.

1. If the moon were made of green cheese and all music were played on a drum — men and women would fall in love. I think jazz and swing make a man hesitate to propose, but maybe that is because I'm unmusical or because I prefer Tschaikowsky.

2. It is doubtful. A serious objection has been made against the proposal to keep medical students studying the year-round without vacation in order to graduate doctors. This was tried in World War I and it made poor, sloppy doctors. Philosopher Harry Overstreet has written that it requires leisure as well as work to turn your learning around in your mind and see its real meaning. Then it becomes not only knowledge but wisdom. You can't gain wisdom in a hurry.

3. No. Biologists and psychologists are just beginning to discover how enormously—infinitely—each person differs form every one who ever lived. Biologist Roger Williams, used X-rays to knock out a single gene (heredity unit) from the germ cell of a parent, and it made a decided change in the offspring. There are thousands of genes and each tends to make a different person. These X-ray experiments have not been performed on humans, but would doubtless have similar effects.

POINTS FOR PARENTS

BY EDITH THOMAS WALLACE

Not This

Mother: "I know Jimmie is selfish and demands too much of my time and attention but I guess that's to be expected of only children."

This

Mother: "Jack's cousin is an only child, too—so he is going to spend this month with us and then Jack will go to his home for awhile."

Vacation time gives parents of only children an opportunity to make possible for them the benefits of shared experiences.
